Report Britain Ready To Refer Palestine Now

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Great Britain was reported reliably today to be prepared to toss the complicated Palestine case into the lap of the United Nations without further delay.

Authoritative sources said Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the U.N. Security Council, might even hand the case to Secretary-General Trygve Lie sometime today.

"If not today," one high source said, "it certainly will be turned over to the United Nations within the next couple of days. The British want action."

The only thing holding up Britain from formally placing the Palestine case before the United Nations, this informant said, is a decision by Lie on how he thinks the case should be handled.

Lie was understood to be "feeling out" members of the Big Five on what method should be adopted.

U.N. officials were reported to have taken preliminary steps to expedite an immediate inquiry into the Palestine problem when and if the Big Five Powers give the go-head.

This preparation was started immediately after Lie, in informal talks with representatives of the big powers, advanced a proposal that a U.N. fact-finding commission be set up to study the problem and draft recommendations before the assembly meets in September.

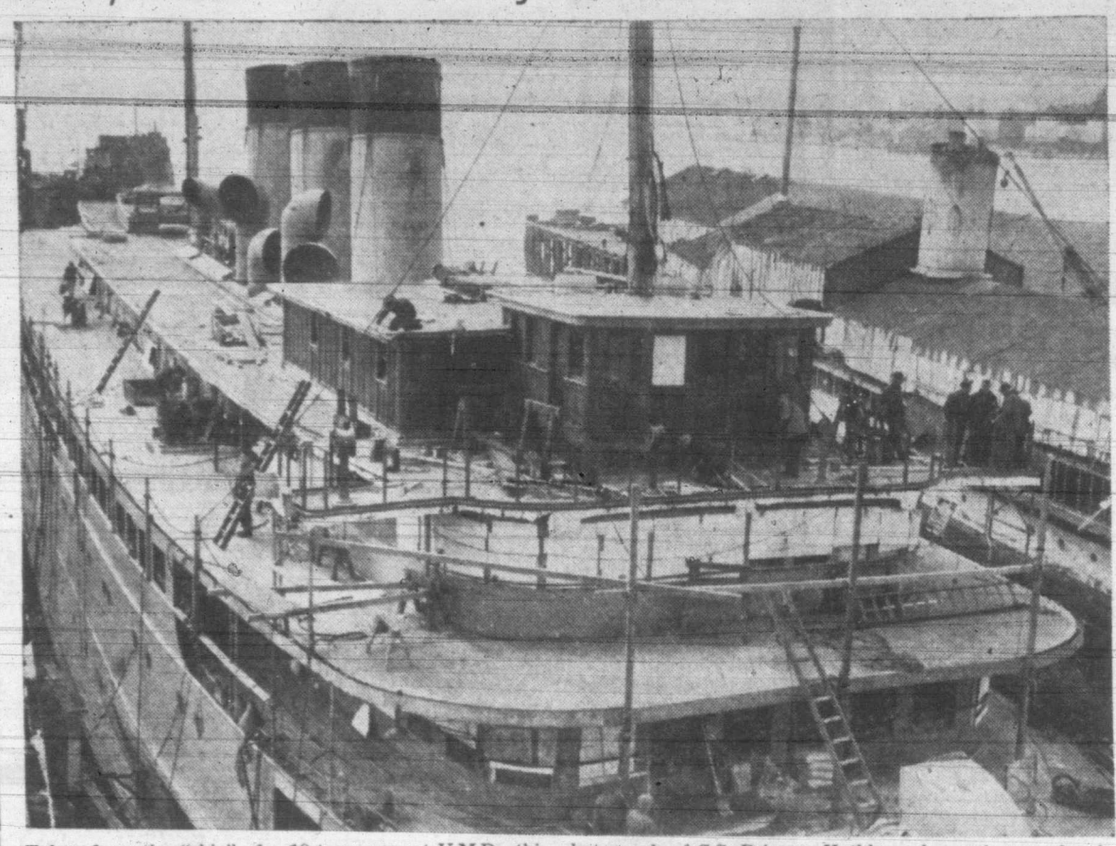
HOMES BOMBED

JERUSALEM (AP)—A holdup and a bombing stirred security guards anew in Palestine today.

In Haifa, the port from which uncertified Jewish immigrants have been deported to Cyprus, a bomb planted in an automobile parked across the street from the city law courts exploded in midafternoon. Two private homes were slightly damaged.

Three men held up the cashier of a motion picture theatre in downtown Jerusalem shortly after 9 a.m. and escaped with $800, touching off a flurry of military activity.

Bird's-Eye Picture Of Princess Being Redecked For Tourist Travel



Taken from the "skip" of a 10-ton crane at V.M.D., this photograph of S.S. Princess Kathleen shows the completed decking of the ship put in as part of her $1,500,000 reconversion from her role as troop transport to coastal passenger ship. H. S. Hammill, V.M.D. general manager, said he expected the Kathleen to be ready for service by May 24. All steel work is completed and mechanical work is nearly finished. Main work ahead now is completion of reinstallation of passenger accommodation. Berthed alongside the Kathleen with her funnel showing through temporary housing is the former Morgan yacht Corsair.

Britain Still Must Use Power, Fuel Sparingly

LONDON (Reuter) — Britons must maintain the utmost economy in the use of gas and electricity despite mounting coal stocks at power stations, Prime Minister Attlee warned today in a statement on the fuel situation, his first since electricity was restored all across Britain for industrial use.

Speaking in the Commons, Mr. Attlee said stocks at power stations had reached an average level of nearly 17 days' consumption in London—14 days was the minimum for the switch-on last Monday.

Total saving of coal during the period of restrictions which began Feb. 10 now was 550,802 tons, he said.

TRANSPORT DIFFICULTIES

Icy roads and a new snowfall meanwhile left Britain's transport system in chaos today as the country struggled for normality.

An 18-hour storm spread up to 15 inches of snow in southern England and the Midlands. Thousands of trains were slowed or stopped. Hundreds of trucks and automobiles were abandoned in snowdrifts or on ice-coated highways too treacherous for travel. Vital coal and produce shipments were held up.

Fifty men, digging through drifts, reached one Midlands village that had been isolated more than a month by previous blizzards.

Temperatures in northern Europe were around 32 degrees above zero. Ice jams threatened several vital bridges in western Germany. Volunteers stood by in Holland to fight dangers to bridges and dikes if a quick thaw comes.

Last Heard From Sunday, 25 Miles Off Maine Coast

BOSTON (CP)—The fate of the Canadian freighter Novadoc, last heard from as mountainous seas battered her off the New England coast, remained a mystery today, but fears were expressed she had gone down with all 25 of her crew.

The United States Coast Guard covered 10,000 square miles by ship and aircraft in two days searching for the vessel and Lt.-Cmdr. George V. Stepanoff, commander of the cutter Algonquin, said on his return to Portland, Me.: "I think she foundered and all hands are lost."

The Novadoc, out of Digby, N.S., with a cargo of gypsum for New York, was last heard from Sunday when she radioed she was 25 miles east of Portland, Maine, with one cargo hatch torn away. She was running before gigantic seas in an effort to keep the deck free of water.

Seven men from Digby County, N.S., villages were with the crew of the 2,227-ton 248-foot vessel under the command of Capt. A. J. Vallis of Montreal. Old records list her as registered with the Patterson Steamship Company, Fort William, Ont.

Disappearance of the Novadoc provided the second sea mystery of the winter off the stormy New England coast. The Boston fishing trawler Belle vanished Jan. 9 after reporting she was in distress in heavy weather.

Marshall Leaves For Moscow To Tackle Issues At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Marshall headed for Moscow today and the start of a give and take struggle with Russia that may affect the fate of all Europe.

(Foreign Secretary Bevin, too, was on his way to the Big Four meeting after signing the Anglo-French Alliance at Dunkerque Tuesday.)

With the problem of peace terms for Germany and Austria demanding his immediate attention at the conference Marshall left for President Truman the foreign policy decision on how far the United States shall go in upholding countries it believes intend to follow the democratic way of life.

War-broken Greece presented the immediate test—whether to pit American dollars against Russian Communism now that Britain no longer is able to bolster the tottering Greek regime.

GREATEST PROBLEM

Marshall himself termed the problem "transcendent," and Greece in her plea for help said she must have it to "survive."

A sudden new succession of congressional blasts at Soviet actions and intentions were not calculated by diplomatic authorities here to make the cabinet officer's task any easier when he meets Foreign Minister Molotov across the conference table next Monday.

The flurry of criticism directed at Russia in the House of Representatives Tuesday brought demands for an end to U.S. "coddling policy" and for economic sanctions in the form of a ban on all American exports to the Soviet Union.

London dispatches meanwhile quoted government sources there as saying Britain plans to begin withdrawal of her troops from Greece despite U.S. offers of financial aid.

John Hannay, 920 Tattersal Drive, aged about 73 years, died as a result of a heart attack late Tuesday afternoon while pushing his bicycle up the steep grade on St. Michael's hill, just past Quick's Pond on West Saanich Road.

Saanich police attended the scene with the police ambulance. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, after examination, said death was from natural causes.

ATHENS (AP)—Greek police announced today that 556 of 571 leftists arrested Tuesday on charges of aiding guerrillas in the north had been shipped to the Island of Nicaria in the Aegean Sea for a year's exile. The remaining 15, police said, are held for further investigation.

Riding School Must Vacate Willows

The Victoria Riding Academy must vacate the Willows by April 7 and move all its horses and goods from the premises, it has been notified by S. W Randall, president of Colwood Racing Association.

Mr. Randall notified Mayor Percy George today of the action he had taken, which is at the request of E. G. Clayard, fire chief of Oak Bay.

Feb. 24 Chief Clayard wrote Mr. Randall saying he had received complaints that members of the riding academy were smoking in the barns and he feared another fire similar to that which burned the sports centre building and horse show building in 1944. He recommended that the use of the cattle barns as a riding school be discontinued.

C.P.R. Must Spend $74,000,000 On Rolling Stock, Official Says

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Pacific Railway must spend $74,000,000 quickly to bring its rolling stock up to normal, a company official today told the Board of Transport commissioners.

Testifying on the railways' application for higher freight rates, E. G. OBrien, assistant general superintendent of transportation, declared the C.P.R. was deficient in revenue freight cars and the shortage was steadily growing more acute.

To restore the equipment to its prewar level would cost $74,000,000, Mr. O'Brien said, and this amount must be spent as soon as contracts can be arranged and necessary money obtained.

MAINTENANCE COSTS

It would cost another $30,000,000 a year to keep equipment at a normal level after the original investment, Mr. O'Brien declared.

He added that, unless the equipment stocks were brought up, "it will become difficult, if not nearly impossible, to give efficient service."

A tabulation submitted by the railway showed it now had 72,938 units—about 7,000 cars less than it had in 1937—and around 700 less than at the end of 1939.

The freight car situation was deteriorating, Mr. O'Brien said, in the face of conditions calling for more cars to produce the same amount of revenue as during the war years.

Though a transport control order calling for maximum car-loading was still in effect, the average weight of load per car had decreased substantially, due to the changed character of peacetime traffic, Mr. O'Brien said. It meant more cars would be needed to handle the same tonnage. Also, average length of hauls was decreasing, with the result more cars would be needed to produce the same number of ton miles.

5-DAY WEEK FACTOR

Another factor tending in the same direction, he declared, was the five-day week in industry, which he said was "having an adverse effect on the maximum use of freight cars."

"Eventually," he said, "the five-day week may reduce the utilization of freight cars by from 15 to 20 per cent."

Taking these factors together, the C.P.R. official said, it was evident that "if freight is to be handled satisfactorily, the deficiencies in our inventory must be replaced as soon as possible."

Besides the cost of rolling stock, Mr. O'Brien said there was a likelihood the C.P.R. would have to undertake heavy expenditures for roundhouses and other maintenance facilities.

Parents Of Slayer, Victim Both Plead For Quick Action

MALDEN, Mass. (AP) — The parents of both the alleged perpetrator and victim of a sex murder today made stirring, separate appeals to Governor Robert F. Bradford to take immediate steps for prevention of such crimes.

The pleas were made in letters from Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Coombes, whose 17-year-old son, Robert, is held on a murder charge, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maxwell, whose 11-year-old daughter, Jacqueline, was slain in a field near their home last Sunday night.

The Coombes' letter said:

"As parents of a son we love but still could not feel right in protecting when it seemed that he might have been mixed up in a terrible sex crime, we ask you to do something so that this may not happen to other parents.

"Our son was let out of Shirley (Reform) School over our protest. He would have been protected from himself if he had been held and there had been laws to prevent his release until it was certain that there was no chance of his committing another crime."

Answering questions put by E. E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, Mr. Pearson said the government has promised New Westminster that it will contribute $20,000 toward the cost of a project for housing old-age pensioners there. The understanding is that a building at a cost of not less than $40,000 will be erected, that the land will be supplied by the city and that water and light will be provided by the city, Mr. Pearson said.

India Parties Can Decide Course By June, 1948, Declares Cripps

LONDON (Reuter) — Stability of continued British control in India was obviously threatened when the war ended, Sir Stafford Cripps, President of the Board of Trade, told the Commons today.

Opening a two-day debate on India by presenting the government's motion asking approval of the decision to quit India by June, 1948, Sir Stafford said India's appetite for independence had been whetted by grants of measures of self-government and by the fact that keen nationalist leaders saw during the war an opportunity to speed things up.

One of the alternatives open to the British government was to strengthen British control in India and reinforce British troops, a move which would have entailed a definite decision that Britain should remain in India for at least another 15 to 20 years.

Rejecting this, the government was faced with the other alternative, to make a further attempt to bring India's political factions together while at the same time warning them there was a time limit during which Britain was prepared to maintain her responsibility while awaiting their decision on the form of the future government.

The government was convinced, Sir Stafford continued, that if the Indian parties set themselves to the task at once, they could reach a decision on a new constitution by June, 1948.

While Britain would welcome India as a member of the British Commonwealth, the government had emphasized it would seek no unwilling partners, he added.

Hospital Rock Area Put First In Work On Harbor Dredging

The first Inner Harbor dredging contract will be let for dredging around Hospital Rock and in that area, it was announced today by officials of the Public Works Department in Ottawa, following tabling of estimates in the House of Commons Tuesday which included public works expenditures of $400,000 in Victoria.

Victoria projects embodied in the estimates are: The new federal building on Government Street, $200,000; dredging of the Inner Harbor, $100,000, and construction of the fishermen's float, $100,000. All three estimates are revotes; those for the federal building and the dredging being for the same amount as last year, while the estimate for the float increases from last year's $67,000 to $100,000.

Tenders for dredging the Inner Harbor will be called practically immediately and work will be commenced without delay, the public works announcement said.

The contract to be let for Hospital Rock area dredging will call for completion of the work in time to provide ample accommodation for the C.P.R.'s summer coast service, in which the reconverted Princess Kathleen will again be running.

Contracts will also be let for dredging in the Inner Harbor north of the Johnson Street bridge. As this area has yet to have necessary survey work completed, the tenders will not be called quite as early as those for Hospital Rock area. It is the department's intention, however, to have the work finished this fall, in time for the tugs bringing rafts of logs from up-island.

Federal Estimates Show Reduction Of $906,115,478 In Planned Outlays

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian taxpayers' chances for substantial taxation relief during the 1947-48 fiscal year appeared brighter today following Finance Minister Abbott's disclosure that he expects the cost of operating the country this year will be $906,115,478 less than the year now ending.

He made the disclosure Tuesday afternoon in the estimates, a book outlining the proposed expenditures of all departments, and tabled annually in the Commons before the budget is brought down.

The total for the 1947-48 year is set at $1,995,878,634, as compared with $2,901,994,112 in 1946-47.

The estimates show that demobilization an reconversion expenditures will be reduced by $918,000,000, but that normal expenditures will be approximately $12,000,000 higher.

The demobilization and reconversion expenditures are estimated at $691,419,000, as compared with $1,610,000,000 for the current fiscal year. Normal expenditures are estimated at $1,304,459,000, compared with $1,292,184,000.

BUDGET AWAITED

Mr. Abbot gave no indication of what the taxpayers may expect in the way of taxation relief. That announcement will come when he brings down his budget, possibly next month.

However, it was disclosed recently that during the first nine months of the current fiscal year revenues were running ahead of expenditures by more than $200,000,000. This fact, coupled with the predicted slash in expenditures led unofficial observers to predict tax relief could be anticipated.

They also noted that the estimates make no provision for payment of subsidies to provinces entering new taxation agreements with the Dominion. These subsidies would cost about $225,000,000 for 1947 if all provinces sign agreements.

Despite the drop in expenditures, they are still far ahead of those for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1939, the last year before the outbreak of war. The expenses then were $553,063,097, and from that point climbed to a wartime peak of $5,332,253,505 in 1944.

DEFENCE OUTLAYS

With the three services now amalgamated under one minister, it is expected National Defence Department outlays will total $239,741,000 in the coming year compared with $501,345,000 in the current year.

In 1946-47, $486,849,141 was earmarked for the orderly establishment and organization of the defence forces on a peacetime basis. For the current year the amount was cut to $226,709,331.

Veterans' Affairs Department expenditures are estimated at $363,456,345 against $667,281,161. It is estimated that war service gratuities to veterans of the Second World War will total $10,000,000 in the coming year as compared with $266,445,375.

On the other hand, payments of re-establishment credits to veterans are expected to move up from $60,000,000 to $70,000,000.

In commenting on the reductions in general, Mr. Abbott said:

"In general, the policy of restricting normal expenditures to the minimum required for the maintenance of essential services is being continued, in fact this principle is being more emphasized at this time than heretofore to ensure that there shall be no provision for new commitments or proposed expansion of any ordinary activity unless it is of such character that delay in provision of funds would be contrary to the public interest.

NEEDS RECOGNIZED

"Reductions have been effected wherever possible, but after a particularly protracted period of restriction on normal peacetime expenditures; many deferred maintenance and other obligations are quite unavoidable."

He said that of the normal expenditures of $1,304,459,000 more than $970,599,000 would be for uncontrollable expenses such as financing the debt, pensions, family allowances, statutory subsidies to the provinces and the like. This left only $333,860,000 for the ordinary services of government.

In the 1938-39 fiscal year interest on the public debt and other debt charges required an expenditure of $133,147,000. For 1947-48 it is estimated the interest and charges will amount to $464,944,000.

Food Problems Follow Storm In Ontario; Travelers Delayed

TORONTO (CP)—Food shortages threatened hundreds of isolated Ontario communities today as plow-defying snowdrifts throttled the rural economy in the southern part of the province in the wake of the worst snowstorm in Ontario's history.

Whole counties were cut off from normal commerce by rail and road Tuesday as drifts ranging up to 30 feet in depth closed schools, stopped milk and food deliveries, halted funerals, forced abandoning of vehicles and left hundreds of travelers stranded along byways.

A hint of cheer was offered by the weatherman, who said the storm, which swept from Lake Superior eastward to the Atlantic, had lost its intensity and drifting had ceased over most of Ontario. However, he predicted more snowflurries in the southern part of the province, hardest hit by the snow blitz.

Travelers were barred Tuesday from non-essential movement in the snowbelt, lying in a great arc about Toronto from Lake Huron to the Quebec boundary.

Though a complete picture was unavailable because of disrupted communications, it appeared the storm cut off most rural communities in more than a score of counties, which reported dwindling food supplies.

With the temperature around the freezing mark, many travelers faced hardship in such temporary accommodation as they were able to obtain after abandoning buses, automobiles and trucks. Swamped with unexpected guests were lonely farm homes, village bus and railway stations, and even town jails were pressed into service.

Logan-Growers To Ship Berries Anywhere; Mayhew Advises East

By NORMAN MACLEOD
Victoria Times Correspondent

OTTAWA—The Dominion government has agreed that in future loganberry growers wishing export permits will receive them without question, R. W. Mayhew, Liberal M.P. for Victoria, announced today.

That means that this year for the first time since the war years the United Kingdom will not have first call on the loganberry crop. Growers will be free to ship to the market of their choice—specifically to the United States if they so desire.

While this is now the situation, Mr. Mayhew believes that before loganberry growers start in to route their production in volume to the United States, where they necessarily compete with other loganberry growers, they should consider carefully the potential market which awaits them in eastern Canada, where, as the shippers of the single citrus fruit which Canada produces, they would be selling in a non-competitive field.

SERVED IN OTTAWA

Before the war, Mr. Mayhew took extensive initial steps to introduce the loganberry to eastern Canadians. He started modestly by having it served in the parliamentary restaurant where cabinet ministers, senators, M.P.s., press gallery correspondents and some senior civil servants eat. The fruit was an instanteous success there. Then Mr. Mayhew enlarged the field of experiment to hotels.

Once again the response was favorable. A definite public demand developed. Wholesale dealers commenced to stock supplies.

Then the war intervened and during its years the people of the United Kingdom were given first call on the loganberry crop. But eastern Canada hotels did not take the item off their menus until they were forced to do so by the exhaustion of wholesalers' stocks. So long as any of the fruit remained in the east, a steady demand existed for it.

Mr. Mayhew believes that loganberry growers would be well advised not to overlook the pioneering that has been done in opening up for them in eastern Canada a non-competitive market. The rapid growth of the fruit in popularity when last introduced is looked upon by him as an excellent portent for the possibilities of building up an important market in these parts.

Britain To Reduce Navy 60 Per Cent

LONDON (AP) — Britain will reduce the Royal Navy 60 per cent this year.

The Admiralty announced today, in its budget estimates for 1947-48, that the total number of naval officers, seamen, boys and Royal Marines would be reduced from the 1946-47 maximum of 492,800 to 192,000 during the 12 months beginning April 1.

Coupled with reductions announced earlier this week by the War Office and Air Ministry, the navy slash will bring an over-all reduction of about 2,430,000 in the British land, sea and air forces.

Comparative figures for the three services:

	1946-47	1947-48
Army	2,950,000	1,210,000
Navy	492,800	192,000
Air Forces	760,000	370,000

Weather

FIRST COMMERCIAL TELEPHONE
LEASED BY SON OF FOUNDER OF THE CANADA LIFE

On the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alexander Graham Bell, The Canada Life pays tribute to a famous scientist and to the great communication system which bears his name.

It is a matter of interest that in October, 1877, Hugh C. Baker of Hamilton, Ontario, son of the founder of The Canada Life, leased the first telephone instrument for commercial use. He and two other subscribers started the first telephone exchange in the British Empire.

Thirty years before this epoch-making event, The Canada Life issued its first policy. We look forward with pleasure to our own centennial later this year.

Tahsis, site of a north island logging community, under a blanket of snow.

Comforts Of Town Life Enjoyed By Thriving Logging Community

TAHSIS—Approximately 200 men and 40 families are now living at this thriving logging community, situated ten miles north of Nootka on the Tahsis Canal.

The employees of the Gibsone Logging Company, a large Island lumber concern, are also enjoying the same comforts as other communities situated close to the facilities of larger towns and cities. There is a school, as well as a dance hall, a picture show and a coffee bar.

New bunk houses furnished with all the modern conveniences are now being being built by the company for the men.

Tahsis has no highway connections with the outside world but enjoys an air service operated three times a week by the C.P.R. Airlines. The company also operates the vessel, Machigonne, which pays regular visits to Port Alberni. There is also a C.P.R. boat service.

The logging company operates a logging and mill camp under the supervision of J. Gordon Gibson. Alan Ramsay is superintendent of the mill. Mr. Brandeback is head of the logging camp.

The present owners took over the lumber operation from Olson Logging Co. Ltd., in 1944, and are engaged chiefly in cutting fir and hemlock which is sent to the mill to be cut into rough boards. The undress lumber is shipped out by water, and an average of three ocean freighters call at the port every month.

Mr. Nesbit is in charge of the export of lumber.

Committee Charges Elaborate Spying By Soviet In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Thomas (Rep., N.J.) said Tuesday the House committee on un-American activities had discovered that "an elaborate scheme of legal espionage operations is being carried on" in the United States by Russia.

In a speech in the House, Thomas said:

"One phase of this legal espionage has been the tapping of the inventive genius of America's industrial and military development for the benefit of the Soviet government."

Since 1943, he said, the Soviet Union, through its agencies in the United States, "has succeeded in obtaining practically every industrial, chemical and military patent from our patent office—Hundreds of them—dealing with every phase of our technological development."

The Russians, Thomas said, have ordered as many as 60,000 patents from our patent office at one request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association, said Tuesday Communists are "foreign agents" and asked Congress to prevent them fror holding positions of leadership in labor unions.

He told the House labor committee that Congress should "allow employers and unions to deal with the problem effectively" and should establish a clear policy toward Communists.

In the present situation, he said, if an employer discharges a Communist "he can be called before the National Labor Relations Board for an unfair labor practice."

Seattle Workers Plan Strike Vote

SEATTLE (AP)—The Joint Council of Municipal Employees (A.F.L.) Tuesday directed that a strike vote be taken by unions representing more than half of Seattle's 6,500 employees.

A. L. Barnes, executive board member, said that three unions are not included in the strike vote call — the Firefighters' Union, the Electrical Workers' Local and the Street Railway Workers' Local. Police are not affected as they have no union.

"We have tried for months to get suitable wage increases," Barnes asserted.

"City scales are 20. to 25 cents an hour lower than for comparable work outside," Barnes added.

Judge Rules Out Statements Made On Torso Murder

HAMILTON (CP)—The defence won a major victory Tuesday in the second trial of Mrs. Evelyn Dick on a charge of the torso murder of her husband last March when Mr. Justice J. C. McRuer followed the judgment of the Ontario Court of Appeal and ruled as inadmissible in this trial statements she gave police.

"I accept the judgment of the Ontario Court of Appeal as a judgment in law," said the trial judge.

His decision came at the end of an address of almost two hours, climaxing a more-than-two-day legal battle with the jury excluded.

Since early last Saturday when the jury was first excluded there since early last Saturday when the jury was first excluded there had been a parade of police witnesses until midmorning today.

Then C. R. Magone, for the Attorney-General's department, delivered in 15 minutes the reasons of the Crown for desiring the evidence admitted. Defence Counsel J. J. Robinette and his Lordship discussed the question for 35 minutes before the judge started his reasons.

That meant the second trial of the young woman charged with the dismemberment slaying of her tram-driver husband now goes forward, in the words of His Lordship, "as though it (this evidence) never happened."

The judge's decision shortened by at least two days the time needed to bring to the jury stage this trial which grew from the finding of John Dick's headless, limbless body on Hamilton Mountain last March 16, just 10 days after police allege he was killed during a motor ride to a remote road in Glanford Township, some 15 miles from Hamilton.

Also charged with the slaying are Mrs. Dick's father, Donald MacLean, whose .32 revolver is a crown exhibit in the young woman's trial, and her ex-friend, William Bohozuk, a burly steelworker. The two men must stand trial later, possibly this week, and indications were that a verdict in Mrs. Dick's case might come late tomorrow night or Thursday.

EMPHATIC ARGUMENT

IN UNMISTAKABLE TERMS MAYOR George has endorsed the argument repeated times without number in these columns that this community now requires a unified police force. Faced with the outbreak of crime last week-end and considering the imponderables of the future, the chief magistrate has stated categorically that "a unified police force for the metropolitan area of Greater Victoria is the obvious answer." It would reflect no credit on the intelligence of leaders of surrounding municipalities to suggest they are unaware of this pressing need.

While the mayor has voiced uncertainty over the manner in which such an amalgamation can be achieved, we suggest that detail is a minor problem in mechanics which could be ironed out without difficulty by the different elected bodies having jurisdiction over municipal departments.

Whether or not the events which occurred last week-end—not to mention the slaying of a Chinese resident a few days earlier—are indices of a crime wave that is breaking here is incidental. Greater Victoria is entitled to the highest measure of protection its police can give it. In the opinion of the mayor, that degree of efficiency is not possible while each group operates independently or is subject only to the informal co-operation which existing conditions permit.

The plain fact of the matter is that action is required—and speedily. It will not do to delay locking the stable door until after the horse has been stolen.

PRAVDA'S BATTLE

WHEN THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF Britain, France and the United States reach Moscow during the next few days it is to be hoped they will take Foreign Commissar Molotov into a corner and ask him why Pravda, Izvestia and other Communist organs in the Russian capital continue their blasts against Britain and the United States. Almost every day one or more of these newspapers follow the old familiar line—an attitude, incidentally, which seems to please left-wing columnists in this country and in the neighboring Republic.

Today's issue of Pravda, for example, publishes an editorial blurb trying to convince the Russian and other people that the "unformalized military agreement" between Canada and the United States is in reality "a hidden military agreement between Britain and the United States," which "means that Britain herself is a participant in the aforementioned agreement." Then the Communist daily proceeds:

"Does not this mean that the agreement is really an Anglo-American military agreement? Does not this hide a military union of the Great Powers? The correctness of these suppositions has been reinforced by the recently-concluded Anglo-American agreement for co-operation in aviation, and the published statements on the standardization of armaments prepared in rather secret circumstances and without reference to geographical factors."

Anti-British columnists on both sides of the 49th parallel are well served by this type of nonsense; they swallow it in one gulp and serve it up ad nauseum in their favorite "beef" about British imperialism—tarring Canada with the same brush. These "fellow travellers" who appeal to mob psychology never suggest to their readers that if there is one nation which the sacrifices of two world wars have prevented from embarking upon any kind of imperialism, that nation is Great Britain. What she needs and must have is peace. And if the Soviet Union is sincere in her demand for peaceful progress—those who really know Russia intimately say she, too, must have long years of peace if she is to recoup her losses—the men in charge at the Kremlin will surely take a little more pains to see that their propagandists deal more with facts and less with fiction.

And who was it who signed the pact with Hitler in the summer of 1939 and with Matsuoko in 1941? The answer is Vyacheslav Molotov.

ANSWERING MR. SOMMERS

MILITARY AND NAVAL EXPERTS will burn a good deal of midnight oil in trying to settle, to their own satisfaction, whether it was better business to invade North Africa in the fall of 1942 or postpone that adventure to try to breach Hitler's West Wall in the spring of 1943. In these columns a month ago we quoted some arguments which Mr. Martin Sommers included in an article in the Saturday Evening Post, entitled "Why Russia Got The Drop On Us." The writer in the popular United States weekly sought to establish the fact that Mr. Churchill talked the late President Roosevelt out of pre-arranged plans for a cross-channel attack on Europe in 1943. As we mentioned here, the Post's editorial stated:

"Today, though they do not say so publicly as yet, some of our (U.S.) ablest military leaders believe that the North African invasion and the whole ghastly Italian campaign were unnecessary and that the dawn of VE-Day was delayed—with all that means in terms of loss of life and national treasure—by our failure to attack across the Channel in 1943."

For the purposes of his argument Mr. Sommers contended that Russia was able to sweep out into Europe and secure dominance over nations which would have been beyond her jurisdiction had the war been brought to a speedier termination. The writer of the Saturday Evening Post article may have been quite satisfied in his own mind that Mr. Churchill was playing some adventurous card when he persuaded the President to agree to his formula. There has just been published in the United States, however, Volume Two of "History of United States Naval Operations in World War II," by Captain Samuel Eliot Morison. Discussing this important work, Mr. Hanson W. Baldwin, the well-known naval and military writer of the New York Times, has this to say in part:

"No reader can leave this volume without a greater comprehension of the past and of the strains and tensions of coalition war; and no reader can read "Operations in North African Waters," this reviewer is certain, without being profoundly convinced that the British were right in insisting upon the invasion of North Africa in 1942 in place of the invasion of France in 1943. We were ill-trained then, unready, adolescent in our military strength; a premature invasion of France might have resulted in a holocaust and in changing the entire course of history. North Africa was our testing ground and the school of blood and bitter experience. Mr. Morison has described it well."

Until the historian is able to settle down to the task of considering the "ifs" and "buts" of the Second World War—and there will be a multitude of them—it would seem to us to be foolish for the layman to try to be wise after the event. The reading public after the First Great War became heartily sick and tired of the various claims projected across the screen of human observation as to who played the greatest part in frustrating the designs for world domination which the late and unlamented Wilhelm Hohenzollern had conceived. Surely there is enough conflict of opinion as to how universal peace shall be established to forbid statesmen, writers, and the "little people" of the world opening a new controversy as to this or that nation's contribution to the defeat of Adolf Hitler and his tribe.

BARS GOODWILL GESTURE

BRITAIN'S OUTSTANDING BUSINESS weekly, The Economist, which had never missed an issue since 1843, failed to publish for two weeks because the British government would not approve an import-license for foreign-printed copies after a leading Washington publisher offered to edit and supervise the entire publication job.

Probably the best known publication of its kind in the world, the paper in question was ordered by the government to suspend publication for the period mentioned as a part of the fuel-saving campaign. Whaley-Eaton Service, publisher of two widely read Washington newsletters, thereupon offered to assume the full responsibility for getting the issues out. To eliminate any exchange question, it even proposed to finance the entire dollar cost of the undertaking, accepting payment of its bare expenses in sterling. Sufficient newsprint had been obtained, no easy feat in the present shortage; two Washington printers had agreed to merge their facilities to do a rush job of typesetting and printing; Pan-American Air Lines co-operated by setting aside cargo space to assure the over-night transportation to London of the several tons of printed matter which these issues involved. Everything was set, until bureaucracy stepped in— then the plan fell foul of the British Board of Trade, which has sole authority to issue import-licenses. Even though the undertaking would not have affected the emergency fuel-saving program in the slightest, nor involve any drain on Britain's scarce dollar supplies, an import-license was essential; but it was not forthcoming.

There was a time during World War II when The Economist had to overcome such handicaps as the simultaneous bombing-out of its editorial and its printing offices. Yet not an issue was missed. No other war in the past 103 years, no other shortage, not even Britain's general strike in 1926, ever prevented its regular appearance. As the journal said, in protesting the ban, only British Fuel Minister Shinwell, originator of the ukase, "could achieve what Goering failed to do."

PROTEST IN SAANICH

THE EARLIER DECISION OF THE Saanich Council and the opinion of school boys to the contrary notwithstanding, Greater Victoria amalgamation is a matter which justifies the co-operative action of all municipalities in a fact-finding survey, in the opinion of the South Saanich Farmers' Institute. That body's letter expressing regret over the Saanich Council's refusal to share in such an undertaking has been tabled by the reeve and councillors for consideration with others expected on the same subject. In other words, earlier action by the elected representatives of the northern municipality, when it declined participation in the investigation, is not the last word on the issue.

It would be improper to suggest that the opinion of a private organization such as the farmers' institute should take precedence over that of the duly elected representatives on the municipal board. If the views held by the former, however, are supported by a material number of other groups of Saanich residents, it should be obvious that the council will have to reconsider its position in order to justify the responsibilities of representative government. No proper purpose can be served by refusing to face the facts, or by obstructing their collection and publication in the form suggested by the city.

We learn with joy that people are tired of "hot" music. It came from primitive Africa and appealed to the primitive in us. Now let's be civilized again.

United Europe

By FRANK B. WALKER from London

THE POLITICAL prospects of Mr. Churchill's United Europe Committee are not good, if, for no other reason than the fact that it is Mr. Churchill's Committee. The name of Britain's wartime Prime Minister is identified too closely with Conservativism to secure agreement in Europe today.

But if the political prospects of a United Europe are none too good, the economic prospects are showing considerable vitality. The fate of the Economic Committee for Europe is still in the hands of the United Nations but meanwhile two organizations are showing just what can be achieved in reconciling conflicting economic interests on the continent.

THE FIRST OF THESE organizations is the Emergency Economic Committee for Europe, planned during the war and set up in the summer of 1945, with a membership of Belgium, Denmark, France, Greece, The Netherlands, Norway, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Invitations were sent, also, to the U.S.S.R., Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia but these nations have not yet joined.

In addition, several other nations are represented as associate members. These include Australia, Eire, Iceland, Italy, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland, which altogether make E.E.C.E. a representative body.

Mr. Eric Wyndham White, Secretary-General of E.E.C.E., at a press conference the other afternoon, explained some of the work undertaken by the organization he represents. After listening to the wrangles of peace making, it was a refreshing and encouraging report.

E.E.C.E. HAS COMMITTEES covering such mundane matters as insect pest control, fish, seed, public utilities and enemy exports. But it also has—and this is not decrying the importance of the others—panels dealing with such vital subjects as the allocation of coal and timber and the food prospects for the continent.

It is in coal that E.E.C.E. has scored its most striking success and for this it must thank the second of the international organizations now operating here, the European Coal Organization. This, like E.E.C.E., is a purely voluntary organization with nothing more than advisory powers but together they have succeeded in initiating a plan which has almost boundless implications.

The European Coal Organization is responsible for directing the difficult coal situation in Europe. It gathers together the requirements of member countries, analyses them, estimates stocks and production and then makes basic allocations. At a time of severe coal shortage, the difficulties of doing this are obvious, but E.C.O. has succeeded.

IT WAS FOUND that over and above basic minimum requirements a small surplus existed. The amount was far too small to warrant any general increase and it was decided to funnel the coal to individual factories within individual nations, which in turn would distribute their extra production over the continent.

Fertilizers being in short supply, these plants were chosen to receive the extra coal. Thus, the whole continent will benefit by an increased allocation of fertilizers, which would never have been produced but for this co-operation.

E.E.C.E. hopes to extend this scheme and instead of conflicting and disjointed reconstruction plans for individual European states, to correlate national needs in such a fashion as to benefit the continent as a whole.

The ideal would be to allocate specific items in the reconstruction program to individual nations and thus avoid in a time of fuel, manpower and equipment shortages, the wastage of overlapping production. But this is too much to expect and E.E.C.E. is moving slowly, one step at a time. Fertilizer was the beginning, as it is of so much.

BUT E.E.C.E. HAS another success to record. It has succeeded in securing agreement on timber allocations. All the nations of the continent are short of timber and without it reconstruction can hardly go ahead. Instead of a dog fight for what timber exists, E.E.C.E. has been able to make a division of stocks on the fairest basis.

On food E.E.C.E. just acts as field representative for F.A.O. It estimates production and need and reports the over-all picture.

The importance of what has been done in the past few months must not be gauged by actual results. The real importance lies in the fact that European nations have shown themselves willing and able to sit around the table and agree on vital and immediate problems. The temptation to grab has been resisted and if it can be resisted today, there is a great deal of hope tomorrow.

While Mr. White was discussing his organization, the deputies of the Big Four Foreign Ministers were illustrating all the difficulties of political co-operation. But, in a manner, politics are the froth on the beer of economics and E.E.C.E.'s success stands as a sound tribute to international good sense.

'Have You An Invitation For Your Friend?'

Traditional Hospitality Assures Royal Welcome

Written Specially for the Times by BLANCHE FICK

SOUTH AFRICANS are proud of their reputation for hospitality and friendliness and that is why even the most ardent Republicans and anti-British among them are anxious that their country should put on a "good show" for the Royal family. In any case, Their Majesties charm and grace are such that even the ranks of the Ossewa Brandwag can scarce forbear to cheer; but I am confident that the royal tour will go a long way toward eliminating the racial animosity that, originating at the time of the Anglo-Boer war, was so cleverly and insidiously revived, encouraged and exploited by the Nazis during the Second World War. The thousands of South African men and women who served in the armed forces learned the real meaning of the term South African and are no longer concerned with petty racialism. Their record is one of which the whole country is justifiably proud—and it is interesting to note that 60 per cent of them were Afrikaans speaking.

PERSONALITIES

Unfortunately, all South African politics revolve around personalities. People will follow one man to the death without giving his party more than a fleeting thought. A famous story in this connection is told of Gen. Botha in the First Great War. He telegraphed one of his followers informing him that the country was at war and asking him to raise a Commando. The answer read: "Commando raised. Who do we fight, the English or the Germans?"

Politics and rugby—are the South Africans greatest interests and they take to them early. If you come upon a group of twelve-year-olds arguing hotly, they are just as likely to be debating the rival merits of Gen. Smuts and Dr. Malan—the Nationalist leader—as those of their rugby captains.

TWO CAPITALS

The Union of South Africa has two capitals — Cape Town and Pretoria—these two cities though 1,000 miles apart were necessary to meet the rival claims of the North and South at the time of union. Pretoria is the administrative capital and is, roughly speaking, to Johannesburg, what Washington, is to New York. The government of the country holds its parliamentary session in Cape Town, the rest of the year in Pretoria. The Governor-General, the Prime Minister, and the chief civil servants and their staffs live part of the year in each city. Pretoria is a charming town set among hills and famous for its jacaranda-lined streets which, when they are in flower, mist the whole town with mauve.

Johannesburg on the Ridge of White Waters has its roots in the richest gold deposit in the world. It is a restless vivid, modern city where 700,000 people work. Only 60 years ago here rolled the untouched veld. On its streets people walk 6,000 feet above sea level, while thousands dig for gold 2,000 feet below sea level. The towering white mine dumps and streams of native mine workers wrapped in their colored blankets are in piquant contrast to the luxurious homes and sophisticated life of the city —one of the most cosmopolitan in the southern hemisphere.

SOPHISTICATED

Durban, one of the Union's most important ports, is also one of the country's most attractive towns. Natal is the most English of the provinces and in Durban you hear very little Afrikaans spoken. The atmosphere is exotic, sophisticated and gay. It is the winter resort for the up-country dweller who finds its tropical climate a welcome change from the biting cold of the high veld. There is always lots to do in Durban; the beach is superb, though there are plenty of sharks in these waters; there are wonderful drives among the tree-covered hills, and it is fun to stop and let the monkeys swarm over your car and feed them nuts and bananas. The Indian market is picturesque and fascinating and its fezzed thousands bring to one's notice another of the Union's problems — the Indian question.

WAR DANCE

One of the most impressive shows that still will be staged for the Royal Family's entertainment will be a native war dance. Today when we discuss warfare in terms of atomic bombs it may seem a little absurd to describe a war dance of native warriors tricked out in skins and feathers—brandishing clubs and assegais as "impressive." Nevertheless, to witness one of these dances is to witness the unashamed revealing of that universal and primitive instinct that has devastated the world. The dance patterns of this tremendous ballet are as old as man himself—the patterns of war.

After they have toured the Union the Royal Family will travel north to Rhodesia and nowhere will they be more enthusiastically welcomed than in this outpost of Empire. But when they sail again from Africa cheers and goodbyes in three languages will follow them. "Goodbye; Tot siens; Bayete."

The most ignorant can be taught, but not if they think they know it all.

Letters To The Editor

OVERCROWDING

Mr. Sinnott's letter in the Times regarding the overcrowding of the Blue Bus Service calls attention to a very probable risk of a serious accident. Two drivers, who are very obliging, do their best to accommodate all those who wish to travel with them, and they drive carefully as a rule; but there are places and times at which an accident may very possibly occur when a bus is overloaded.

One of the bad places is the turn out of Brighton Avenue into Hampshire Road. The grade slopes the wrong way for such a turn and any vehicle is tilted over to the right. One of these days a crowded bus will turn over on its side at this place and then if it catches fire there will be a disastrous accident.

HISTORY IS A TEACHER

Having read the leader in your paper of Saturday last on Winston Churchill's attitude towards the policy of the present Labor Government in India, your arguments and opinions denouncing Churchill's criticisms lead me to write this letter, knowing that your opinions are read by a great many Victorians, and probably will influence them to belittle Churchill in their estimation through your rendering of the situation.

I am not a politician, nor do I pretend to be up-to-date and knowledgeable on the trend and circumstances of this present situation in India. But I do know —and perhaps you may not have shared this, to me, great experience, I having lived in England throughout the war years and before—if I had not been in England I could not have believed that one man could so inspire each and every one of us during those days of insurmountable odds against Britain. He was a great—a very great man then, and great men do not change their perceptions and characters overnight.

I feel, therefore, perhaps it would have been wiser, since you carry the responsibility of your views being accepted by a great many people, not to have gone so far back as 1903 to quote Mr. Churchill. Would not Mr. Churchill's actions and opinions in 1931 on the India Bill have been more apt? Mr. Churchill — and you should have made this point with greater clarity in your leader to give a fair representation — has changed his party colors several times, because he has always followed his own independent views, brilliantly and logically expounded, rather than subordinate them to his party's policy if the two conflicted. Mr. Churchill is above all an individualist of strong and clear-cut opinions. He has so many times run contrary to the prevailing sympathies of the people, especially during the 1930's, but history has proved him right in nearly every case. And that is my opinion of him today (Miss) I. S. ROMER.
2136 McLaren Street.

Editor's Note: If our esteemed correspondent will re-read the editorial to which she refers, she will discover that we did not mention India at all until we posed the query as to whether Mr. Churchill would advocate keeping "India, Burma, Palestine and Egypt within the Empire by force of arms." Our readers will recall our numerous tributes to the great Englishman who led Britons through "their finest hour." And our personal experience in the British metropolis reminds us intimately of the great part he played as a minister in the Asquith government when the social reforms of which he was part architect became the law of the land—reforms which no administration since has dared to weaken. By no stretch of the imagination could anything we said in last Saturday's leading article be interpreted as a belittlement of Britain's wartime Prime Minister. His place is secure in history.

WHY NOT CUT POSTAGE?

Edmonton Journal

Reports that a reduction in airmail postage rates is contemplated by the government raise the question: Why not a cut in the rate for ordinary first-class mail as well?

When the charge for city delivery was raised from two cents to three, and for outside delivery from three cents to four, it was generally understood that this was a temporary wartime measure. Last year the postmaster-general hinted hopefully that these rates might be reduced, but nothing has been done about it. Cynics might suspect that the increase, like so many "temporary" nuisance taxes of World War I, is here to stay.

If any reductions are to be made—and the post office's ten million dollar surplus last year invites some — the government should include the ordinary postal service, which is used by the great mass of people, as well as the less-used airmail.

THEY CHOSE CRIME

Edmonton Bulletin

Evidently Vancouver did not start the civic clean-up any too soon. Two policemen were shot dead and a third wounded, one of the murderers was killed and a second wounded, in a gun battle on a public street in broad daylight. The third "bandit" was captured.

The killing of the policemen was wanton. There was no need for it. Their assailants were not facing terms in jail or the penitentiary. They had not committed a crime. There was only circumstantial evidence to show that they planned to commit one. Rather than be questioned they shot down the three officers in cold blood. And the inference is they would have shot down others if one of them had not been killed and a second disabled.

Why did these young men, with life and unbounded opportunities before them, choose to make themselves criminals, at the cost of forfeiting life itself? What background of mental twist, heredity, family conditions, or social environment caused or influenced them to turn to crime These are questions which may be answered as the trial proceeds.

COMMON GROUND

The differences between Russia and other nations on many questions concerning the peace should not be over-emphasized. They exist, but they are being lessened and removed. There is one major point, however, on which there is no difference of opinion; that is that Germany must never again be allowed to make war on any of her neighbors. The impending meeting of the foreign ministers in Moscow to write the terms of peace to be imposed on Germany should make this clear to future would-be fuehrers.

Return To English

Norway Digest

DURING the German occupation of Norway, Nazi school authorities reduced English language to a bare minimum and instituted a broad expansion of German language and "culture" studies. Shortly after liberation the prewar curriculum was restored—to the disadvantage, however, of these students whose shortage of English instruction during the war now made it difficult for them to pass examinations based on the prewar study plan.

The Norwegian Education Council has now announced that a new proposal has been forwarded to the Ministry of Church and Education, recommending a decided reduction in German studies in the secondary schools with a corresponding increase in English instruction. The new plan will include revisions to aid students now short on English credits and will introduce a general expansion of English language and cultural instruction in Norwegian secondary schools.

Peacetime Services Great Task For Red Cross Society

TORONTO—Speaking on behalf of the current drive of the Canadian Red Cross Society for $5,000,000 for the maintenance and expansion of the society's peacetime work in the Dominion, Arthur L. Bishop, chairman of the society's National Executive Committee, expressed confidence that the people of Canada would rally to the support of the organization.

"This is a vital campaign, as it will set the scale of Red Cross work for years to come," said Mr. Bishop. "We all realize that peace is more important than war and the peacetime work of the Canadian Red Cross will be of more real and lasting value to the people than were our war activities.

"Before the war, the Canadian Red Cross was engaged on a program of developing home services. When hostilities came, the society put its major effort into war work. The peacetime activities were continued but the expansion plans were deferred.

"The time has now arrived to throw the great organization and the war-ripened experience of the Canadian Red Cross into peacetime humanitarian undertakings at home here in Canada.

"As in war, so in peace, the Red Cross must carry on. By our work in peacetime we will be able to make a great contribution to a better Canada.

"Is peace no less worth working for and sacrificing for than war. In my capacity as an officer of the Red Cross I am fully conversant with the challenge presented to us by the peacetime problems and opportunities for wide service of the Red Cross. I therefore urge all Canadians to open their hearts and loose their purse strings to the end that we may have the funds to carry on."

Canadian Red Cross home projects include the operation of a Canadian-wide free blood transfusion service for all in need of life-saving plasma; maintenance and further expansion of the present chain of 54 outpost hospitals and nursing stations on the frontiers of the Dominion, the continuation of an extensive program of aid to veterans, which includes the operation of lodges at veterans' hospitals across Canada maintenance of the Red Cross disaster relief organization and other projects for the saving of life and the conservation of health in our country.

Federal Tax Plan To Aid Gold Mines

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott announced in the Commons Tuesday afternoon a three-way plan to bring taxation relief to gold mines and said one of the steps would include raising the depletion allowance from 33 1-3 per cent to 40 per cent of profits earned on and after Jan. 1, 1947.

The second step, aimed particularly at helping low-grade marginal gold mines, would increase from $2 to $4 an ounce the depletion allowance on gold produced after June 30, 1946. Under the third proposal, new gold mines would be relieved of the necessity of taking into their books the appropriate write-off for depreciation and pre-production expenses.

Open Baby Clinic At Macaulay Point

Forrest L. Shaw, three times chairman of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council—the civilian unit pledged to aid war veterans in the process of rehabilitation—and Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, officiated at the opening of the "Well-baby Clinic" at Macaulay Point camp Tuesday afternoon. Army huts at the camp have been remodelled by the council to house families of veterans who have been hit by the post-war shortage in housing.

The clinic, sponsored by the Union Health Board, will be open for mothers with their children on the first Tuesday in each month and this will continue indefinitely, most likely until the housing situation in the Greater Victoria area has eased to the extent where the families can settle in homes of their own.

Dr. Anderson and health nurses operate the clinic. The unit is only for well babies not sick ones. "Our idea is to keep the children fit and well," said the doctor.

The medical officer said that the program of the clinic was to give the babies routine examinations and immunize them from diphtheria, T.B., whooping cough and other diseases.

Where a baby is classed as abnormal, Dr. Anderson said, the mother is recommended to see her own doctor on the matter.

The clinic is also open to babies of residents of the district surrounding the camp area.

Millions Benefit From Advertising, Kiwanis Club Told

Advertising is the only economic means of bringing news of new products and services to the millions, F. H. Elphicke, manager of radio station CKWX, said in an address entitled "This Thing Called Advertising" to members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Advertising helps to make jobs for millions and will increasingly tell the story of industry, business and progress, the speaker said. As new products come on the market advertising is the means of telling the news of their coming. It also aids in clarifying many misunderstandings, he said.

In answering the question that is so often asked, "How much does advertising add to the cost of the article," Mr. Elphicke quoted figures from many large firms and industries showing in all cases that the advertising tariff on a single article or piece of goods is usually less than one cent. As an example Mr. Elphicke pointed out the significant fact that the tariff on a 40 pound box of apples from the Okanagan was one cent a crate.

M. V. Chesnut, vice-president of the Kiwanis Club, introduced Mr. Elphicke.

Jap Bluebeard Tells Court He Killed 7 Women

TOKYO (AP)—A weird scarecrow of a man in a long black coat and a pointed straw hat that drooped to his shoulders was tugged into court at the end of a rope here today for trial as Japan's latest bluebeard, a confessed rapist and strangler of women.

The prisoner peered through two slits in his hut-like hat behind which Japanese law permits him to hide his shame from the public.

In the courtroom, however, removal of the hat wiped out the Wizard of Oz look to disclose mild-appearing, 43-year-old Yoshio Kodaira, who told the three judges in the packed and remarkably dirty courtroom that he had killed seven of the 10 women with whose deaths he is charged since April, 1945. Most, he said, were strangled after he had lured them into wooded areas.

Kodaira denied slaying the other three and angrily declared he was not the "peeping tom" who had annoyed women in a Japanese dormitory by squinting through the windows.

"I never committed such loose conduct—the idea!" he said.

The prisoner, blinking through horn-rimmed spectacles, showed no emotion as the prosecutor detailed the crimes of which he is accused. His admissions of guilt were firm and quick.

In midafternoon the judges called a full day's recess—it's one day on and one day off in Japanese courts. Two policemen boosted Kodaira out of his chair, slapped on the "straw man" hat, snapped handcuffs in place and led him away with the rope re-knotted around his middle.

DID I SAVE A LIFE?

Yes you did!

AS A CONTRIBUTOR TO THE CANADIAN RED CROSS.

YOU, whether of your substance or your blood, or both, gave the greatest gift one person can give another . . . Life.

YOU, by the same token, helped give a total of over 2¼ million Canadian blood donations during the war years, undoubtedly saving countless young lives.

YOU, in these days too, may help carry on this greatest of all services to your fellow-Canadians. How? Please read on.

In one year, almost 7,000 people in Canada met violent deaths. Many of these would be alive today had immediate transfusions been available. Mothers in childbirth, patients in hospitals, children struck down by accidents, depend for their very lives on blood transfusions.

To every such patient in Canada, the Red Cross plans to provide FREE OF CHARGE, life-giving whole blood and plasma.

For this purpose, a new Dominion-wide Blood Transfusion service is now being organized. It should prove the greatest life-saving project upon which the Red Cross has ever ventured. And so, whether it be your money, your blood, or both, what you give may save a life.

The Red Cross needs every dollar you can spare as your share in its great work. Please give as much as you can.

Gallup Poll

Public Supports Ottawa Collecting Income Tax

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

While weight of Canadian opinion still favors the Dominion as the proper collector of income taxes, latest Gallup survey shows that the number of people who think this way is slightly less than a year ago.

Almost a year ago (April, 1946) Gallup Poll opinion reporters across Canada interviewed a carefully balanced sample of Canadian voters with this question:

"Who do you think should have the right to tax incomes—the Dominion government at Ottawa, or each provincial government?"

Again, a few weeks ago, these interviewers were asking the identical question of a Gallup sample of voters.

In both the 1946 and the latest survey, approximately one-quarter of the voting public was on the fence or undecided, or unfamiliar with the issue. However, about three-quarters did have a definite opinion. National results compare, in the two periods, as follows, based only on those with an opinion:

	April, 1946	Today
Dominion	61%	57%
Provincial	39	43

At time of writing, six of the nine provinces have signed agreements with the federal government, allocating certain tax fields, including income taxes, to Ottawa. Three provinces (Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia) have not yet signed. It might be thought that opinion in these "hold-out" provinces would, in the past year, have shown a greater swing toward provincial rights than other provinces, but this is not the case. The decline in Dominion support, shown in the table above, is fairly general across Canada, and the change in, say, Ontario and Quebec, is no greater than in other provinces. Just how the views of the "man-on-the-street" in these two provinces stand today, as compared with a year ago, is shown in this table:

	April, 1946	Today
Ontario:
Dominion	68%	65%
Provinces	32	35
Quebec:
Dominion	51	49
Provinces	49	51

It will be seen that, in Quebec, support, as between provinces and Dominion, is much closer than elsewhere. Actually the balance has shifted, although, in terms of percentage points, the shift is small, and might be due to sampling methods, which are always subject to small margins of error.

Morrison's Sickness Adds Work To Other British Ministers

LONDON (Reuter) — The continued illness of Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, poses a serious problem for the government.

Morrison is the driver of the parliamentary and administrative machine. His dynamic energy is an asset and a tonic for the cabinet. For months now he has been in hospital with thrombosis and though his condition is improving, there is no indication when he will be able to resume his duties.

Four government leaders share Morrison's duties—Prime Minister Attlee, Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton, the Board of Trade President, Sir Stafford Cripps, and the Lord Privy Seal, Arthur Greenwood, who is deputizing as leader in the Commons.

There have been increasing rumors and reports that the government's dilemma over Morrison's continued absence will necessitate a considerable cabinet reshuffle at an early date.

Official quarters denied this today and declared the policy of the government is for the Prime Minister and his colleagues to continue to share Morrison's work until he is able to resume his duties.

In addition to shouldering part of Morrison's work on top of his own, Attlee must also, during Foreign Secretary Bevin's absence in Moscow, take charge of the Foreign Office.

Seventeen-Year-Old Mother Dies During Childbirth

Mrs. Halper, 17-year-old wife of 18-year-old Fred Halper, died while giving birth to a daughter. The baby died a few minutes later. Here is an example of a young girl who should have been attending school rather than that of a wife facing the trials of life at a time when good friends and school happenings should have been giving her the happiest times of her life. But now Betsy Halper and her child is dead.

"The Heller" is a novel—about an adolescent girl growing to maturity—which will shock many people. The Ladies Home Journal prints this story because the editors feel that this story illustrates many of those problems of youths lying close to the borders of juvenile delinquency, and hence will assist in their understanding solution. Every young girl should be encouraged to read "The Heller." It may save them from a tragic ending similar to that of Mrs. Halper.

The Ladies Home Journal carrying this great instructive story is now on sale at your magazine dealers and is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovicks' News Agency, Victoria, B.C. ***

H. S. Banner Speaks To Women's Club Of Indonesia

Illustrated with a splendid selection of colored slides showing the country and people of Indonesia, Hubert S. Banner, B.A., F.R.G.S., spoke to the Women's Canadian Club Tuesday afternoon in the Empress Hotel on some of his experiences in his 12 years spent in the Dutch East Indies.

Describing Indonesia as "a true fairyland" not only in its great natural beauty of rugged mountain peaks, slow moving rivers, glorious lakes and dense forests but for the Indonesian people themselves, who in their childlike outlook on life takes note of many superstitions and customs dating back to almost aboriginal days and yet takes very little cognizance of modern issues.

"Nearly 95 per cent of the Javanese people have not the slightest interest in politics," he said, "most of them being perfectly content as long as they see a few meals ahead."

Mr. Banner traced the growth of the country from the first Indonesian peoples, whom it is thought came from the steppes of China, through India bringing with them a knowledge of navigation, astronomy and the cultivation of rice.

He sketched a brief picture of the Javanese as they are today; their customs of early marriage; their belief in medicine men "who under the surface hocus pocus have a deep knowledge of jungle herbs and a certain power of hypnotic influence."

Touching briefly on the history of European contacts, Mr. Banner spoke of the Portuguese, the Chinese, who have become the merchants of the country, the Spanish, English and Dutch influences.

"The Dutch created one of the most profitable eras known to the country," he said. "They gave the Javanese their good irrigation system which in turn helped to produce excellent and abundant crops both of sugar and rubber. They also established large and prosperous industries."

Mrs. Kenneth Drury, the president, thanked the speaker for his address. Announcement was made that the next meeting will be March 18, when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Alfred Watt, O.B.E.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

"Today, God is giving women everywhere a power to bring forth the good in mankind such as they have never had in any age before," said Dr. Sherman, in addressing the meeting at the afternoon session.

Gatherings of Christian women, small or large, she said, with the resultant interchange of thought and ideas, must have a great influence in a restless world.

She spoke of the Christian women in war-torn countries of the world.

"They carried on in the face of almost insurmountable difficulties," she reminded her audience. "Now they bring that same determination and courage to the fight for an ever-lasting peace."

"They kindle a resolve in women everywhere to stand united in the cause of goodness and right."

An honored guest at the morning session was Mrs. Charles A. Banks, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who has graciously consented to become honorary president of the diocesan board.

What's New Around Home

Star-Bright Candles—Melt old candle butts, add a crayon for color. Style in jelly molds and cream containers with cotton-string winks. A dip in hot water will set them free from molds.

Handy — The tape measure keeps neatly furled in a special case improvised from an empty adhesive-tape spool—white enameled and decorated with shiny nail polish.

Cornered—A plain white handkerchief becomes a gay little gift for any girl you know if a crimson "lipstick patch" is appliqued on one corner. Nice trick for hostess towels and tea napkins, too.

Souvenir Place Card—Mirror each guest's name on a miniature looking-glass prettied up with posies. All it takes is a few decals and a bottle of nail polish to do the trick.

It Looks Like New—That old chest you thought you were through with, can be treated to bright plaid wallpaper panels. Remove old handles, put on plain wooden knobs painted white.

Easy Ironing — Trick that brings highly starched collars, cuffs and other stand-up pieces from the ironing board looking their smoothest is to mix paraffin with the starch. Melt paraffin and stir a small quantity into starch when it is prepared.

Spring Charm—For a first feel of spring, grow bulbs all over the house. And for conversation and fun grow them in containers right off your pantry shelf—hyacinths in a soup tureen, paper narcissus in a jumbo coffee cup, crocuses in a gravy boat.

A Patch In Time—When you press the clothes that go with your good-as-new accessories, watch out for thin worn places—a good way to reinforce them is to iron on strips of mending tape, before a gaping hole sets in.

Feelings Rise As Member Charges Small Group Dominates B.C. Labor

An apology to the House was demanded of Opposition Leader Harold Winch by Speaker Norman Whittaker during a flare-up Tuesday when Alan J. McDonell, Coalition, Vancouver Centre, asserted in budget debate that the livelihood of lumber workers of B.C. rested in the hands of nine men, headed by two outsiders, who dominated all collective bargaining between the logging companies and their workmen.

Mr. McDonell said the nine men who monopolized labor policy were headed by J. W. Fadling and Karley Larsen, president and vice-president of the I.W.A., Portland, and that the third top man of the group, Harold Pritchett, Vancouver, president of District No. 1, I.W.A., answered to them.

He said organized labor had justified its existence but as a result of this outside domination, tens of thousands of workers were not permitted to negotiate for themselves. Their negotiations must be handled by a select few.

"This monopoly of labor policy is a greater menace because it is held by outsiders," he said. "At one time there were only two Canadians on the board and they were kicked out to make room for these outsiders, and workers themselves had no say in framing bargaining agreements."

SAYS STATEMENT UNTRUE

Fireworks started at this point, Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F., interrupted to say the statement was untrue and that workers did have a say.

Opposition Leader Winch asked who did all the negotiating for the operators and named R. V. Stuart, head of Stuart Research Ltd., as representing all the operators in bargaining agreements.

Mr. McDonell agreed but said Stuart was a Canadian and that Fadling and Larsen were not.

More interruptions came from the C.C.F. and Premier John Hart stood up, protesting that Mr. McDonell should be permitted to continue his speech.

Mr. Speaker called on Mr. Gargrave to withdraw his statement that Mr. McDonell had made a misstatement.

Mr. Gargrave objected, asking why he was not permitted to call a member's attention to a mistake made.

"They do it to us from the other side of the House," he asserted.

Opposition Leader Winch joined in the dispute and both were called upon to withdraw their remarks about misstatements.

Mr. Winch remarked that it was another example of "dictatorship in the chair" whereupon Mr. Speaker demanded that he apologize to the House for his remark.

"Why and for what statement?" Mr. Winch asked.

The apology was demanded again.

Mr. Winch asked once more which statement the Speaker was referring to in his demand for an apology.

Mr. Speaker waited.

Said Mr. Winch: "Things have got to such a state here that I am wondering which statement you refer to in your request for an apology."

APOLOGIZES

Finally Mr. Speaker answered him: "In your remarks of dictatorship in the chair."

"Are you ready to apologize?" Mr. Speaker asked.

Mr. Winch answered: "Yes, sir," and took his seat.

The fireworks ended at this point with neither Mr. Gargrave or Mr. Winch withdrawing their remarks that Mr. McDonell's statements were untrue, and with Mr. Speaker satisfied, apparently, that Mr. Winch had apologized.

Mr. McDonell ended his speech quickly with the statement:

"The Minister of Labor has not yet brought down to the House his labor regulations, but when he does I hope we will see measures to restore to the working people of the province a measure of liberty and freedom of action, free from foreign domination.

School Children Visit Legislature

Pupils from Cloverdale School with their teachers group around Bruce A. McKelvie, veteran newsman and prominent B.C. historian, who told them during a visit to the legislative chambers Tuesday of the differences between government in B.C. in early days and procedure today. The visit was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of Cloverdale headed by Mrs. J. J. Carney. A second visit to the Parliament Buildings of pupils from the school was scheduled today.

Slocan Due For Mining Revival, Legislature Told

Another Kimberley may be in the making in the Sloan district of British Columbia with the discovery of ores in the Big Ledge area, Randolph Harding, C.C.F., Kaslo-Slocan, told the B. C. Legislature Tuesday.

The Sullivan mine at Kimberley is the largest lead-zinc, silver producer in the British Empire.

Mr. Harding failed to elaborate on the Big Ledge properties but asked the government to provide further assistance for prospectors and small leasors.

"The Slocan is coming to life again," he said.

Speaking during the budget debate he charged the government was neglecting the tourist possibilities of the interior. He said there was not one decent road from the U.S. boundary into B.C. east of the Cascades. He asked for hard-surfacing of all entry roads so U.S. tourists would not turn back within the first half mile as he had seen them do.

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE

To supplement current revenues which may fall during a recession the B.C. government should enter the auto, fire and property insurance business and extend its power program to include the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. and the West Kootenay Power and Light Co., he said.

Even more than the record almost $60,000,000 budget of Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb for 1947-48 would be necessary in the future to meet the province's rising costs of education and social services, Mr. Harding suggested.

"We can't go on pouring almost $1,000,000 a month into the treasury from liquor profits," he said. "This will decrease."

Unless new sources of revenue are found, cut in the liquor profits will mean cuts in education and social services, he contended.

Winch Wants Speed On New Legislation

Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch demanded in the B.C. Legislature Tuesday the government speed up introduction of important legislation, not leaving to the last 10 or 14 days.

With the House in its 15th day, only one piece of important legislation, amendments to the forest act, had been introduced, Mr. Winch said.

"I think it is high time the government started introducing major legislation so that we will have an opportunity to study it and the people may know about it," he said.

Captain Suggests Training Ship For Young Criminals

J. H. Cates, the tugboat captain M.L.A., Tuesday again asked the B.C. government to send youthful crminals on a training ship to take them away from their old habits and neighborhood and let them see the world and the world see them.

Latest report of the Provincial Industrial School for Boys showed that of the 111 youths committed 70 per cent were between 14 and 16 years, he said.

"Taken at that age, these boys could be reclaimed for society and not end up possibly in a murder case when 20 years old," he said.

The Coalition member for North Vancouver also suggested the development of Mount Seymour Park to provide recreation for youth.

"There is something about a mountain top, with its evergreens, the clear air and the exhilaration of winter sports which does something to a person," he said.

Columbia Member Presents Views On Industrial Harmony

Tom King, Coalition, Columbia, offered his solution to the problem of strikes in labor when he took part in budget debate in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon.

He advocated the setting up of a permanent public relations board which would study the workingman's position in industry, scale each type of employment in comparison with all others, make its findings public, and thereby stabilize employment.

"The general public would know whether wages being asked by any certain group were fair as compared with other groups," he claimed, stating further:

"Merely because some particular line of workers are strongly organized is not a justifiable reason why they should be better paid than another group, weakly organized or not organized at all. These others help to bear the burden of the increased cost of goods because of those who may have a higher rating than the work deserves."

He said the board could be representative of the people and appointed for a period of years so that its decisions would be entirely unbiassed. And as business conditions rose or fell or varied in the industry, adjustments could be made from time to time on the wage scale, but the standard ratings would still hold.

"Being familiar with industry, the board could soon become best judges as to the comparative conditions of work, and give valuable advice to employers so that as high a standard of working conditions could be obtained and maintained," Mr. King said.

"Such a board would fully justify itself if it prevented one major strike in 10 years and would, at the same time, help the working conditions by reporting to the employers where these were not up to standard, what others were doing, or what should be done."

McDonell Proposes B.C. Drive For New Industries

Alan J. McDonell, Vancouver Centre representative in the Legislature, advocated during the budget debate in the House Tuesday afternoon the formation of a select committee of the Legislature to determine possibility of establishing new industries, or providing financial aid to existing industries.

He said the Aid to Industry Act passed in 1921 had resulted in establishment of important secondary industries in the province. (The Dept. of Industry under Col D. B. Martyn as commisioner, loaned about $2,000,000, and Public Accounts this year showed $527,000 lapsed loans. The act was repealed in 1930.)

Many industries in B.C. existed because of this act, Mr. McDonell said. These industries had provided employment for thousands of workers. During the war some of them made a substantial contribution in the production of equipment for the armed forces. And two of these industries paid income and sales taxes in excess of $1,000,000 in 1943. Their employees paid many thousands more in income taxes.

WONDERFUL RESOURCES

"I am not in the slightest degree discounting the efforts of our present Dept. of Trade and Industry. The minister of that department (Hon. L. H. Eyres) is on his toes seeking and taking advantage of every opening that appears to promise expansion of industry. However it is often said that we live too close to the forest to see the trees, and we all know that with the wonderful resources distributed all over this province, there are many opportunities for the establishment of industries based on the natural products of the different localities."

The select committee he advocated could, he thought, augmented by representatives from labor and industry, attempt an industrial survey with a view to determining if new industries might be established, and by the aid of funds supplied by the government, if existing industries be enabled to expand.

"If the report of the committees at the next session discloses that provision by the government of a reasonable amount of funds would serve a useful purpose, then the government could decide whether or not an act containing the basic principles of the old Aid to Industry Act should be introduced," Mr. McDonell said.

Shelve Liquor Talk, Member Advises

The B.C. Legislature Tuesday was told to quit talking about liquor and do something about it.

J. H. Cates, Coalition, North Vancouver, who earlier during the current session had advocated more liquor to solve present problems, said:

"I am beginning to ask myself, are we not making too much noise about this subject and possibly overlooking other important matters which should be engaging our attention. Where is all this clamor for a change in our liquor laws coming from?"

He was afraid the impression would go abroad that British Columbians were drunkards.

"This is the last reference I intend to make on this subject at this session, and I suggest we quit talking about and do something, and then get on with the other important business before the House," he said.

Log Scale Shows Higher Production

Logging operations in British Columbia got off to a good start in 1947 with the cut of 204,755,056 F.B.M. of logs during January, an increase of 28,872,185 F.B.M. over the January, 1946, total.

Statistics released today by the B.C. Forest Service showed that the log scale for the Vancouver forest district during the first month of this year totaled 160,062,895 F.B.M., compared with 134,475,171 F.B.M. during January, 1946. Beside logs cut for timber also cut were 456,543 lineal feet of poles, compared with 284,841 feet in January, 1946, and 900 hewn ties, compared with none in January 1946.

Just less than half, or 77,241,038 F.B.M. of the total log scale in the Vancouver district during January, 1947, was Douglas fir. Other species cut included 29,720,059 F.B.M. of cedar, 2,185,963 F.B.M. of spruce, 37,671,125 of Hemlock and 10,503,918 F.B.M. of balsam.

In the coast area of the Prince Rupert forest district, 13,704,327 F.B.M. of timber was cut, while in the interior area of the same district 3,918,691 F.B.M. were cut, during January of this year.

Output of the Fort George forest district was 15,250,529 F.B.M. during January of this year. Kamloops district during last January produced 6,239,100 F.B.M. while Nelson district cut 5,579,514 F.B.M. Also cut last January in the Kamloops district were 1,151,263 feet of lineal poles while the pole cut for the same month in the Nelson district was 1,107,532 feet.

Diggon Confers With B.C.E.R. On New Transport Franchise

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of Victoria's Transportation Committee, spent most of Tuesday in conference with A. E. Grauer, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, discussing Victoria's transportation system and the possibilities of obtaining an offer of a new franchise from the company.

Following the conference Ald. Diggon said he hoped to get a statement from the company setting out proposals which could be submitted to an early meeting of the City Council. Ald. Diggon would give no hint as to what alterations might be made in the franchise which was turned down by the electorate of the four municipalities last December.

The City Council held a closed session lasting more than an hour and a half Monday following the regular council meeting at which the transportation question was discussed.

WANTS CLARITY ON POLICY

Ald. Diggon said that his committee wished to be clear on which policy the council wanted to follow on the transportation issue before going ahead with any plans and before calling in the three outlying municipalities to any Greater Victoria meetings.

"I do not intend to call a Greater Victoria meeting until after the City Council has arrived at a definite policy on the transportation issue," he commented. "We must have unanimity and a complete understanding of all the issues within our own ranks before we present any further plans either to the other municipalities or the electorate. It is vitally important that the City Council have its policy on the matter set because Victoria is the most affected by any transportation system which will be set up."

The committee will also prepare for the council an outline of what it would cost the city to institute a publicly-owned transportation system, Ald. Diggon said, and what the probable results would be of such an operation. This will be presented at the same time as any new proposals coming from the B.C.E.R. he indicated, so that the council may make a decision on which course of action it wishes to follow.

Mainland Trades Congress Rejects Labor Lobby Plan

VANCOUVER (CP) — A mass labor lobby to the Legislature at Victoria was abruptly vetoed Tuesday night by the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council (T.L.C.).

(On Feb. 4, the council passed a resolution asking the executive to give "favorable consideration" to a joint T.L.C.-C.C.L. lobby.)

Instead, 10 delegates were appointed to go to Victoria when proposed labor legislation is brought down "to study and make recommendations on amendments if necessary."

"The lobby last year accomplished nothing," said Ald. R. K. Gervin, secretary. "It left a sour taste in the mouths of the members of the Legislature."

The council also declined the invitation of the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.) to send a representative to a public meeting here Thursday to discuss labor's brief to the Legislature.

Secretary Gervin said that, while waiting for word on proposed legislation, labor would be "very much at sea" at such a meeting and "in the position of going off half cocked."

Camera Captured Beauty Shown At Little Centre

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

The camera's ability to capture beauty and represent it in the most lively and compelling terms is limited only by the eye and the hand behind it. This was the unanimous conclusion of those who saw the colored slides shown by Monroe E. Pinckard at the Little Centre, Tuesday night.

The pictures and the accompanying commentary were presented by Mr. Pinckard under the apt title, "The Camera's Poetry," and were a part of the opening program for the Loan Exhibition, currently on view at the Yates Street Centre.

A capacity audience responded with with spontaneous enthusiasm to the 125 lovely photographs. Mr. Pinckard, who served with the Film and Photo Unit of the Canadian Army Overseas, showed scenes taken while on leave in Cornwall, North Wales, Scilly Isles, Norfolk, Wiltshire and the town of Chester.

Using an inexpensive camera, Mr. Pinckard succeeds in obtaining pictures that have atmosphere and a three dimensional quality. He also has an aptitude for composition and a feeling for light contrasts and qualities that make his work dramatic and relieve it of monotony.

Mrs. J. Godman, founder of the Canadian Girls' and Business Women's Club in London, which was started in 1942, described some of the difficulties encountered in the early days of the club.

The Loan Exhibition of paintings, which will continue until March 23, should draw many visitors to the Centre and provoke much interested comment. Seldom will the individual have the opportunity to see so many outstanding and valuable works of art gathered under one roof.

Among the many items that command attention, are a lovely Constable, a Rosa Bonheur, a J. A. O'Connor, an interesting reputed Gainsborough and a fine nude by Etty. "Before the Storm" is an outstanding oil by Sam Bough, on loan from James Dumma. There are three exquisite portraits and portrait-sketches by Mary Riter Hamilton, loaned by Madame Sanderson-Mongin and a group of Emily Carr's powerful studies from Maj. H. C. Holmes. Mrs. K. E. Maltwood's important collection is also responsible for some superb paintings.

Former Cwac Makes Hobby Her Business

QUALICUM—A former Cwac has a thriving business here, the result of a hobby learned while she was in uniform.

She is Marjorie Smart, proprietor of the Leathercraft Shop, who, as a member of the C.W.A.C., completed a night course in leather work sponsored by the Canadian Legion.

She says that even before receiving her discharge she found she had a business. Other Cwacs were coming to her with orders for handbags, gloves, belts to go with their civvies to be worn on leave.

Last May she opened a store here and throughout the summer did a thriving business with tourists. Mrs. Smart also keeps a gift shop in Victoria and another in Banff supplied with leather goods. Much of the work is tooled and nearly all is sewn with leather.

A former nurse, she worked in Victoria before joining up. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Birch, residents of this community.

Eastern Foresters Inspect Island Lumber Operations

PORT ALBERNI—A party of foresters and forest engineers from various parts of Canada left here today for a tour of the McMillan logging operations at Northwest Bay after inspecting the plywood plant of Alberni Plywoods Ltd., and Bloedel Stewart and Welch Ltd. sawmill.

Jack Mottishaw, forester with Bloedel, Stewart and Welch, was in charge of the party which is on a four-day tour of Vancouver Island forest industries. The party were delegates last week to the 39th annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers in Vancouver.

Accompanying the party are Eric Garman, silviculturist with the B.C. Forest Service at Cowichan Lake station; Eric Druce, public relations, and R. C. Telford, J. Ker and George Silbourn of the B.C. Forest Service economics division.

The visitors called at the Cowichan forest experiment station Sunday and were the guest of E. A. Roberts, in charge of the station. They were also guests of the Alaska Pine Company at their Meade Creek camp situated on the north side of Cowichan Lake.

Members of the party included: D. Roy Cameron, director of forestry for Canada, Ottawa; J. O. Wilson, woods manager, Anglo-Canadia Pulp and Paper Company, Quebec, P.Q.; A. R. Fenwick and C. Larsson, Ontario Forest Service, Department of Lands and Forests, Toronto, Ont.; A. S. L. Barnes, Department of Reconstruction, Toronto; V. Phelps and P. Anyone Can Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it is hard to beat.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes sixteen ounces of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love it.

And for quick relief, it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Farmers In Saanich Favor Survey On Amalgamation Plan

Saanich council at its meeting held Tuesday night learned that one group in the municipality, the South Saanich Farmers' Institute, is against the council's non-co-operation attitude toward the city's request that a fact-finding survey on amalgamation be conducted in the municipalities.

A letter was read enclosing a resolution passed at a meeting of 38 members of the institute last week stating that the farming element in South Saanich regretted the policy of Saanich on the matter.

The resolution favored a thorough investigation into amalgamation and to present all features of a unified project before Saanich residents so that taxpayers could vote intelligently on the matter.

The farmers favored cost of these surveys being borne by the municipality conducting it.

Councillor W. C. Kersey was of the opinion that there would be like requests from other groups in Saanich and it was decided by the council to lay the matter over pending further requests of this nature.

The meeting put its stamp of approval on all features of a Department of Veterans' Affairs subdivision of 23 acres at Shelbourne Street and Gordon Head Road for the purpose of establishing veterans on five parcels of land under the Veterans' Land Act, except for one item. J. D. Patterson, regional supervisor of inspectors was the application of V.L.A., spoke on behalf of the plan.

A long discussion took place about a bridge on a road in the area. It was pointed out that a surveying job would have to be done to determine whether the bridge was on private property, partly or wholly or vice-versa. The council decided that if it was partly on municipal land it would assume cost of improvements and maintenance of it to the extent the structure involved the municipality, the property owner assuming the rest of the cost. However, if the bridge was wholly in the "private" category, the veteran would have to assume all responsibility on the matter.

ZONING MATTERS

Majority of the evening was devoted to land sales and zoning matters. Referred to the zoning board for action was the application of T. H. Collins and D. S. Morton to have the Seymour-Biggs property at Shelbourne and Feltham Road rezoned for the purpose of establishing a combined coffee bar and variety store.

Handed to the building committee and sanitary and building inspectors was the application of D. C. Wilkinson and R. J. McRae, 437 Stannard Avenue, for permission to erect 12 three or four-room cottages, not an auto camp, however, on Cordova Bay Road just past Agate Lane.

Referred to the zoning unit was application of Phil C. Simpson to erect four auto court units on Quadra Street, Ernest Kay, 3240 Quadra Street, to convert his house at 3251 Glasgow Avenue into a side-by-side duplex. No action was taken on the application of Linn A. Gale, 1002 Vancouver Street, to have the corner of Admirals Road and Gorge Road West rezoned for commercial purposes.

Commons Committee On Health, Wider Research Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—A call for establishment of a House committee on health to study the ills of a Canada beset by "appalling" death rates from cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases featured a rambling debate in the Commons Tuesday.

It came from Dr. W. G. Blair, P.C., Lanark, Ont., who spoke of the "crying need" for greater medical research and the "tremendous" shortage of hospital accommodation, and also suggested that immigrants entering Canada be examined systematically for veneral diseases.

The House also heard suggestions that greater use be made of the Hudson Bay seaway route.

The discussions arose as the House resumed debate on the Throne Speech, adjourned since Feb. 14 to permit the consideration and passage of emergency government control bills.

NEW WEATHER STATIONS

Reconstruction Minister Howe announced Canada will establish within the next three years nine new Arctic weather stations to improve domestic and international weather forecasting. The United States will co-operate in manning the new outposts.

In the Throne Speech debate, Howard Winkler, Lib., Lisgard, Man., suggested displaced persons be brought to Canada to work in primary industries which were affected by the emigration of young Canadians to the United States. The immigrants could be well screened before coming to Canada.

Arthur Ross, P.C., Sourise, Man., expressed opposition to the general 30 per cent boost in freight rates being sought by the railroads.

R. R. Knight, C.C.F., Saskatoon City, urged greater use be made of the route to the sea through Hudson Bay from the Manitoba port of Churchill and suggested that 15,000,000 bushels of wheat could be shipped overseas via that part this coming season. Prairie farmers were greatly interested in the development of the route.

Saanich Council Opposed To Working Employees Sundays

The attitude of members of the Saanich Council on the question of municipal employees being ordered to work on Sundays was in a heavy majority to the tune of "I'm against it," at the meeting Tuesday night when the question came up relative to an investigation matter on a building project.

Councillor Leslie Passmore wanted Sunday as far as he was concerned in the investigation, and it was here that Reeve E. C. Warren led the parade in voting against the Sabbath as a work day for those on the salary list of the municapility.

Councillors George Rudd, W. C. Kersey, J. Leonard Hobbs and John Oliver were also against the suggestion, as was Councillor E. Cummins, who pointed to the fact that before long workers would not be "working Saturdays as well as Sundays, because of the trend toward the five-day week."

At first Councillor Passmore did not see why employees could not work on Sundays, noting that he had devoted time to his work on that day, "and at no extra pay," he said in reply to Councillor Rudd's question.

Saturday was finally settled on.

FIREMEN'S SALARIES

While the council would not divulge its exact decision on the question a salary agreement between the International Association of Fire Fighters and the administrative group, covering members of the Saanich fire department, Reeve Warren was heard to comment that what they had decided on was close to what was asked.

He pointed out that this could not be given to the press before the council had announced the schedule it had decided on. A special meeting of the council on the matter was held last week, but it could not be sent forward until a full council vote was passed on it. The council adopted the last meeting's decision.

SEEK STAFF ADDITIONS

It was decided to call for three new employees to fill two vacancies and a needed addition to the municipal staff. Councillor Hobbs noted, with a laugh, that "an awful lot of girls from this hall have got married."

One application for a refund of money deposited for a parcel of land was accepted because a good reason accompanied the request. Another was turned down because of an inadequate reason. "We need good, solid reasons for these applications before granting refunds back or we will be refunding money all the time," said the reeve.

The bid of James Richardson and Sons Ltd., being the highest bidder, was accepted for sale of $6,500 20-year serial debentures, "Rockcliffe Water By-law, 1947." The bid was $100.06 for $100.

It was voted that Fire Chief Joseph Law attend the annual conference of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association, Ottawa, in Vancouver May 19 to 22. The reeve and two other Saanich delegates will attend the meeting of the Old Age Pension Campaign Council to be held in Prince Robert House on March 25, the meeting decided.

Action As Canadiens Whip Chicago

In a recent game at Montreal the National Hockey League-leading Canadiens edged the last-place Chicago Black Hawks 6 to 5. At the top, Bill Mosienko is caught in the act of scoring on Bill Durnan of Canadiens. At the right, with stick raised in the air, is Doug Bentley. Butch Bouchard, who consistently broke up Chicago attacks, can be seen standing over the prostrate form of Durnan. In the lower photo at the left is seen a general melee in front of the Chicago goal. Lower right shows Ken Reardon in the act of blocking a Chicago player.

Atkinson Nears $4,000,000 Mark In Winnings As Top-Flight Rider

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Toronto-born Ted Atkinson, who grew up in Brooklyn and knew little about horses until he gave up his job in a bottling plant, soon will have brought home mounts to win $4,000,000.

A check today revealed that the hard-working Canadian-born rider has won $3,930,198 for the owners in nine seasons on the turf.

Atkinson was the leading jockey at Hialeah Park during the 40-day meeting which closed yesterday, booting home 34 winners in 40 days.

He might have passed the $4,000,000 milestone at Hialeah had not a suspension knocked him out of a chance at the closing day's rich stakes. His mount bumped another horse last Friday and Atkinson was set down for the remainder of the meeting.

Atkinson has never been a "regular" rider of a top horse, which means he has come up the long, hard way.

"I've never had a horse which got good and stayed good, even for a couple of years," he said.

He will be back in the saddle when Gulfstream Park opens this afternoon, and should soon become the third rider in American turf history to win $4,000,000. Johnny Longden, the "regular" of several big winners, and Eddie Arcaro, Whirlaway's driver, already have passed that mark.

Hockey Clubs Resume Bitter Playoff Drive

With a record of $127,000 in prize money as personal incentive, the National Hockey League's six clubs today took up their stretch drive for playoff positions in an atmosphere fairly reeking of fire, brimstone, and more than a little mayhem.

The league's governors assured everybody of a hot time in the schedule's last three weeks when they announced the rainbow's end bonuses in New York yesterday. With dollars by the thousands awarded for merit, it sounded like a quiz show.

The immediate effect of the announcement should be felt tonight when four of the teams pick up their playoff jousting in two games. The Toronto Maple Leafs are at Boston, where the Bruins will be seeking to consolidate third place, while New York Rangers visit Chicago to meet the Black Hawks.

The Rangers need a victory badly to cut into the prize melon. Currently they are tied with Detroit Red Wings, each with eight games to go. But the last-place Hawks, six points behind this pair with a game in hand, still have hopes of catching that fourth and last playoff spot.

LOTS OF BONUSES

The difference between finishing first and second will boil down to about $500 for each player, according to the governor's announcement that they were setting aside $36,000 for regular-season bonuses. Members of the first-place team, on the basis of 18 players on the roster, get $1,000 each, with $500 for second, $350 for third and $150 for fourth.

On top of that, there are bonuses for the Stanley Cup playoffs, with members of each team winning its semifinal getting $1,000 each and another $1,000 for winning the final.

With another $1,000 to be awarded to the winner of each of the league's four trophies for individual merit and still another $1,000 for each member of the coach's all-star team, one player could pick up as much as $7,000 in prize money.

Tide-Varsity Line-ups Named For Saturday

Harry Olsen at fullback, Spike Dalziell on the wing and Jim Turner at forward are the three players who were named by the Crimson Tide selection committee last night to replace a trio of injured Rep players who will be unable to see action Saturday when Victoria plays host to Varsity in the locals' third McKechnie Cup match of the season.

Out of the Victoria line-up along with Tom McKeachie who was injured in the last Varsity clash will be Austin Cullin, the dangerous hard tackling three-quarter, and Bill Gornall, crack aggressive forward, who both suffered injuries in the trial match last week-end.

ANDREWS CAPTAIN

Joe Andrews, playing coach and captain of the J.B.A.A. fifteen has been named captain of the Tide for Saturday's engagement, replacing Gornall.

The remainder of the team as announced last night includes: Fred Ranson and Jack Gibbs as three-quarters; Dick Chungranes at five-eights, and Daryl Popham on the wing. Ritchie Williams will be at scrum half with Bray, Andrews, Turner, VanDruten, Denham, A. Williams, Mair and Homer-Dixon as forwards. Spares will be Jukes, McCaghey, and Jury.

Star of the visiting Varsity fifteen which is rated as on a par of the famous "wonder team" is Russ Latham of Victoria. Latham has played a leading part in the students' amazing 13-game victory string this season and has accounted for a large majority of the 278 points the team has amassed. Only 25 points have been scored on the Thunderbirds for a defensive average of two points a game as compared to their offensive mark of 21 points per tussle.

OTHER VICTORIANS

Other Victorians on the visitors' side include Doug Reid and Scott Kerr. Reid plays on the three-quarter line with Latham while the 200 pound Kerr is a forward.

The average weight of the Varsity scrum is 184 pounds while the lightning fast backs average 170.

The 17-man Varsity squad which will be here this week-end follows: Carlyle, Morris, Kerr, Kirby, MacDonald, Curby, Crosby and Corry, forwards; Wheeler, scrum half; Biddle, five-eights; Reid, Latham, three-quarters; Nesbitt and McKee, wings; and Dunbar, fullback. Spares are Speirs and Moon.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

NATIONAL Hockey League campaign this season may produce one of the strangest oddities in the history of big-time hockey—the last place team in the circuit winning the goals scored championship. At the present time the Chicago Black Hawks are resting in the cold depths of the cellar and boast a goals for record of 164, just four less than the top place Montreal Canadiens and two less than the total boasted by the runner-up Toronto Maple Leafs. Those nine goals the Hawks blasted by Chuck Rayner in the New York Rangers' net, Monday, pulled them right up close to the leaders. Detroit Red Wings, tied with Rangers for fourth place, are also in a position to lift the scoring title, having piled 160 goals past opposing goalies.

COAST League football is having its troubled times in Vancouver. Reason — St. Andrews, with a star-studded club at the start of the season, have continued to raid the other Mainland elevens until the point has been reached where they are far superior to any competition offered. Latest player switch saw Don Matheson, number one performer for Kerrisdale, move into the Scots' fold. At the same time Hughie Greer attempted to make a little transfer but failed to get the necessary papers signed and announced he would return to the Kerries. However, Coast League officials, took a hand and now Greer is on the sidelines.

COAST League leaders are quite worried over the fact the league has definitely become unbalanced. Alf Cottrell, mainland scribe, points out that when St. Andrew's start their best team, fellows like Jackie Jones, Johnny McKay and Dave Simpson are on the bench. "Now that Scots have Matheson, another good player will have to sit out the games," Cottrell writes. "Net result of all this foolish hanky-panky is that soccer is playing to an average attendance of around 1,500 a game instead of a potential 3,500 or 4,000 per contest. The mess is bad business for league and clubs alike. I would suggest the league should adopt rules forbidding transfers after Jan. 1 and also covering the number of players a club can employ. There is nothing wrong with St. Andrews' talent hogging that a little legislation wouldn't cure."

IF THE city's drug stores experience a sudden rush on the more popular brands of mouth washes and gargles it will be members of the Canadian Legion basketball team trying their best to beat the mumps. After losing Ralph Baker for several weeks with the malady the new city senior men's champions will be without the services of their ace bucket man, Hank Rowe, for several weeks. Rowe was taken sick Monday and for the next 10 days or so will nurse a swollen face. Would be an odd trick of fate if the team was sent to the sidelines on the eve of the British Columbia playoffs victims of the children's disease.

Two-Ball Tourney At Oak Bay April 4

Annual two-ball best-ball tournament will be held at the Victoria Golf Club on Good Friday, April 4, with entries expected from up-island and northwest points. The tournament will be 18 holes with handicap based on three-quarters of the lowest handicapped member of the team.

Entries, which must be in hands of the secretary of the Victoria Golf Club by April 2, will be in teams of two with choice of partners. Officials announce that there will be prizes presented in all handicap classes.

School Basketball Clubs In Playoffs

Semifinals of the elementary schools girls' senior basketball championship will get under way tomorrow afternoon at 3.45, Oaklands playing host to Willows in the first game of total-point series for the right to meet Tillicum school in the final round. The second game of the series will be played at the Willows Monday.

McKenzie Avenue school will clash with Victoria West in the first game of their junior semifinal at Lake Hill gym Friday at 3.45. The second game of the series will take place at Victoria West on Tuesday. Tillicum School winner of section three will play off the winner of section four, undecided at present.

Calgary, Lethbridge Win Hockey Playoffs

It seems a safe bet today that the powerful Calgary Stampeders, who topped the Western Canada Senior Hockey League in scheduled games, will be the team to beat in the semifinals now in progress.

Stamps disposed of the fourth-place Saskatoon Elks 7 to 3 at Calgary last night in the first game of a best-of-five semifinal series, and at Edmonton Lethbridge Maple Leafs defeated the second-place Edmonton Flyers 5 to 3. Leafs now are one game up in the best-of-five series. Theq held third place in the standings.

Fish-Game Members Support Bow And Arrow Enthusiasts

The ancient art of archery for the shooting of wild life in open seasons had champions at Tuesday night's well-attended meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Association.

Several members of the large Victoria sportsmen's club rose to their feet to speak on the subject, noting that according to reports the S.P.C.A. was bent on having legislation passed making bow-and-arrow shooting of game illegal. It has been the charge that archery methods on buffalo herds in the United States recently came under the heading of slaughter rather than sporting practice.

Norman Lord, a well-known figure in sporting circles, was among those who spoke on the question.

He claimed there were no persons better equipped to define whether the archery ardents were decimating game or not than the game department officials. In his opinion the society for the welfare of animals could use their influence to better advantage in other directions, such as checking people who were leaving household cats on their own so that they became wild in the hinterland and created a menace to young game life.

Some of the members could not see how the archers could make their efforts with the bow and arrow pay off with game bags.

OPPOSE ACT CHANGE

And the outcome of the whole matter was that the meeting endorsed a resolution to the B.C. Game Commission opposing any move to have archery barred by the Game Act.

There was voiced opposition to airplane being utilized by elements of the hunting fraternity. Norman Alexander was one to speak against the practice, believing it would add considerably to the depletion of game. No action by the association was taken.

Notice was made that the organization set its initial sights for $750 in its drive to secure funds to build a clubhouse at its Goldstream Park headquarters site.

Victoria lost its fight to have a stronger voting voice in the Vancouver Island Affiliated Fish and Game Association at last week's meeting in Nanaimo, delegates reported. The affiliate passed a motion that each club be given one vote irrespective of size. Game Wardens Joe Jones and George Stevenson were accorded votes of thanks for transportation provided delegates to the up-island meetings.

Boxing Show Friday At North Ward Club

Mount View Still Unbeaten In High School Football

Inter-high school soccer entered the home stretch yesterday with three regular scheduled senior division tilts and a junior game. All four games were of the close, hard-fought variety, ending in 1 to 0 decisions.

At Mount Douglas' grounds, the league-leading Mount View squad turned back the home team, scoring its fourth straight victory. Leaders have not been scored upon in league play. Star of the game was Gerry Ball, winners' stellar goalie, who played a bang-up game in keeping his opponents off the scoresheet. Eric Coles setting up Doug Betts in the clear, and the young centre making no mistake. Betts is leading scorer in the senior league.

Second-place Oak Bay team scored a single goal victory over Vic High Golds at Windsor Park. Golds put up a stiff battle, despite the fact that they played the full game with only nine men. Ron McLeod scored the only tally at the 15-minute mark, booting home Dave Whittingham's cross.

ESQUIMALT WINS

Third senior match, played at Victoria High, saw Esquimalt capture third place in the league, nosing out Vic High Blacks, 1 to 0. Only score came from a penalty shot. Vic High team got off to a rather bad start, playing only nine men. However, as the game progressed, the needed players turned up to make a game out of the affair. First session was half over when Blacks were nicked for a penalty, and Jim Wright converted the spot kick. Second half was all Vic High, but luck was not with the city lads as they were robbed of numerous scoring opportunities.

The junior tilt, played on Vic High's north field, saw Golds edge the league-leading Blacks, 1 to 0. Ian Firth scored the lone goal.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

OUR HEROES ARE NOT FORGOTTEN

Peace has come to our land—many returned men have been absorbed into civilian life — but, many are lying sick or crippled in veterans hospitals. In today's hustle and bustle, these men who bear the scars of war more than others, are apt to be overlooked by many Canadians. But the Red Cross does not forget them. Red Cross workers pay them frequent visits . . . bring them cigarettes, candies and many Red Cross comforts.

But this is only one of many Red Cross services. Outpost Hospitals, Nursing Services, Crippled Children's Hospitals, etc., must be maintained and expanded. Blood transfusion service must be extended.

Canada needs the Red Cross! And the Red Cross needs your financial support—every last dollar you can spare. Let your conscience be your guide — give from your heart—generously.

SASKATCHEWAN IS ONE OF WORLD'S GREAT WHEAT CENTRES

Long ago the name of "Sas-k-tchewan," meaning "Rushing Water," was given by Indians to a river. Because the river was given that name, a province of Canada carries it today.

The Saskatchewan River is one of the long ones of this continent. Its total length is almost 1,400 miles, and it flows from the middle of Alberta eastward across the province of Saskatchewan, then into Manitoba.

The Rushing Water province has rolling prairies and vast forests. It ranks fifth in area among the provinces of Canada, being a little larger than Manitoba. In population it ranks third, only Ontario and Quebec having more people.

All the provinces of Canada except two border on the ocean or on the salt water of Hudson Bay. One of the exceptions is Saskatchewan, the other Alberta, and both may be described as "inland provinces."

Wheat is the greatest crop of Canada, and among all the provinces Saskatchewan is the leader in production of wheat. It is one of the wheat centres of the world. In an average year, this province produces enough wheat to provide three quarts for every man, woman and child on earth.

Most of the cattle-raising in Saskatchewan goes on in the southwestern part. This section is favored by the Chinook winds, which come in from the Pacific and make the winter weather more mild. Sheep, as well as cattle, may graze all through the winter where these winds make the snowfall light.

Think of a city which has increased its size 390 times in 47 years! Saskatoon is such a city. At the beginning of the present century it was a little village, with only 113 people, but now it is one of the leading cities of Saskatchewan.

Asks Why Province Needs Additional Insurance Company

What is the need for another insurance company in B.C., asked A. R. MacDougall, Coalition, Point Grey, when the Legislature's committee on private bills was presented, for consideration, a bill to incorporate the National Fidelity Insurance Company today.

In answer, J. B. Clearihue, K.C., spokesman for the proposed company, said only six of 310 insurance companies doing business in Canada were incorporated in British Columbia.

It was felt by Bertrand Galloway, an officer of the proposed company, that business should go to B.C. incorported companies instead of money going east, being loaned back to this province, and the interest going east again.

Mr. Clearihue said that the proposed company would operate entirely as an independent organization in answer to a question raised by Opposition Leader Harold Winch. Mr. Winch had noted that Mr. Galloway, who had spoken in answer to Mr. MacDougall's question, was an officer in the National Health Insurance Association which had some 9,000 members and a capital of $511,000, according to a Royal Commisison report. He asked if any capital for the new company was to come from the association.

The committee also had for consideration bills providing for extension of the investment powers of the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of B.C.; redistribution of the capital of the Morrissey, Fernie and Michel Railway, and incorporation of the C.U. and C. Insurance Company.

Record Log Tow Here From Charlottes

Section of the huge Davis raft which reached here after a five-week tow from the Queen Charlotte Islands. V.M.D. Bay Street plant in background.

Largest tow of logs ever to reach Victoria is now being disassembled in harbor here following a stormy trip through Hecate Straits southbound from the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The tow contained 4,000,000 feet of fine grade spruce and cedar logs for the James Bay Lumber Company, which operates a mill on Pleasant Street.

The huge Davis raft drew 22 feet of water and was some 14 feet in height.

The lumber left Cumshewa, Queen Charlotte Islands, five weeks ago and was towed by the tug J. R. Morgan.

Capt. Larsen was in charge of the tug and tow which ran into foul weather as soon as it left the logging port. On one occasion a storm threatened to break up the raft, but the tug managed to find shelter.

A. Y. Johnstone, manager of the lumber company, said the lumber was worth $190,000 and the insurance company would only insure the logs for $60,000.

Oppose Granting Japs Fishing Licenses Here

A resolution opposing granting of fishing licenses to Japanese fishermen on the B.C. coast or any employment of Japanese by persons holding a fishing license was passed by members of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, at their monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

The resolution was made in opposition to the report that Ottawa was considering granting fishing licenses to Japanese fishermen. It will go before the forthcoming Canadian Legion provincial convention in Vernon, starting May 10.

The branch also re-affirmed the Legion's Dominion Command resolution demanding deportation of all Japanese.

B.C. Man First To Head Senior Group Of Canadian Chamber

For the first time, a senior committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is being headed by a B.C. man. He is R. M. Bryan, Vancouver, whose appointment as chairman of the foreign trade committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce was announced today at the meeting of the B.C. regional committee of the Canadian chamber, by H. Cuthbert Holmes, chairman.

Mr. Holmes made the announcement at the Empress Hotel meeting following advice received from C. Gordon Cockshutt, president of the Canadian Chamber.

Regional commitee members present at this morning's meeting were: R. H. B. Ker, J. V. Johnson, W. C. Mainwaring, H. C. Holmes, and F. E. Norris, all of Victoria; W. J. Borrie, W. M. Cunningham, Maple Ridge; Frank Hall, Chilliwack; W. T. L. Roadhouse, Kelowna; A. Hall, Duncan; N. Corfield, Nanaimo; Arthur Leighton, Nanaimo, and D. A. MacLeod, Esquimalt.

Also present at the luncheon, given following the meeting, were: Minister of Public Works Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry Eyres, E. G. Rowebottom and R. S. O'Meara.

At the meeting, committee members expressed confidence there would be a lowering of income tax and of corporation tax, especially excess profits tax.

Members also reviewed by-law revisions which will be presented at the annual meeting of the Canadian chamber in Quebec City Oct. 7, 8 and 9.

It was reported that substantial progress had been made in reaching the Canadian objective of 375 member boards of trade. There are now 319 in Canada.

Controversy Over Doubling Taxes Against Utilities

Arguments for and against Vancouver's proposal to double its present 1½ per cent tax on gross income in respect of pole and wire facilities of public utility companies were heard by the Legislature's committee on private bills Tuesday.

D. E. McTaggart, corporation counsel for Vancouver argued that the Goldenberg Report recommended that cities should receive more in taxation from public utilities.

A. E. Grauer, president of the B.C. Electric, argued that the city council of Vancouver had not justified the proposed increase and that it would go far beyond the principles laid down by the Goldenberg Commission.

He said his company already paid $526,000 a year in taxes to the city and that an additional $300,000 would have to be paid under the proposal. He asked that the matter be tabled for a year.

Ernest Bull, B.C. Telephone Company spokesman, said Vancouver's actual revenue from the pole and wire tax had increased by more than 50 per cent since 1937.

FURNITURE

—THE LOST GIRDLE—

THE G.F. was supposed to meet me in town, but she was late, with a laff and a frown. "My Mind," she sed, "is sure all a-curdle, because I'll B darned . . . if I could find my girdle? That 2-way I so thoroly hate, so that's the reason WHY I'm late." She told me more, quite sorry I felt, "so I'm going right away n buy a garter belt."

U SHOULD C this Chesterfield we are offering at just $135 . . . it has 2 matching chairs . . . a good looking suite, in a floral rose (just have 2 suites . . . brand new).

"I RANSACKED the house time and again, where COULD that thing B lain. Then down in the basement with drooping hose, maybe I'd taken it—down—with the clothes. I looked in the washer and the tub. GOSH I thot I am the dub. It 'twasn't there, so I sed to the cat, Fluffy . . . just W-H-E-R-E is that darn thing at??????

BEDROOM SUITES . . . waterfall styled in with plate mirrors . . . warehoused $115, blonde or brunette . . . smart 2-tone finish . . . brand new . . . too.

"THEN further up-stairs I hunted around, but still my shape, it couldn't B found. I began to get desperate, looked on the shelf, and once again I felt myself. To make sure my head wasn't gone, and that maybe I had the fool thing on. Then I began to reason like this, it MUST B somewhere. I just CANNOT miss."

DINETTES at 198 . . . and in solid maple . . . with leatherette on the backs as well as the seats of the sturdy chairs . . . remember SOLID MAPLE.

"THEN I THOT . . . that maybe you (just like the silly things U do), so with my stockings drooning around me here, I climbed up and peeked in the chandelier. And, as over this I did bend, I thot of Ray Milland, and the Lost Week-End. And so I laffed and darn near fell, I guess I was a little—hysterikell."

DARNED IF we know how many Newspapers are published Daily in Victoria . . . but in the 2 we mess up, we've never offered a better buy in a Bed Davenport, than this 2-Pc. outfit in homespun at just $128.

"Again I sat down upon the bed, convinced I was crazy in the head. Then of a sudden, by this place of rest, I lifted the top of the cedar chest. How it got there I'll never know, the cursed thing, that 'so 'n so' and that's the truth of that thing so wretched, you believe me, don't U, I haven't STRETCHIT."

We want you to look around every room in your house today and just see if there isn't somewhere you could use another chair, we find that this is often the case, there is usually some room where all the family sit and when a friend comes there just don't seem to be enough chairs to fit in the room. We have chairs for any room in your house and hope you will be in this week to see them. Mrs. Lewis.

Temperance Delegates

Rev. Dr. John Coburn, Toronto, left, general secretary of the Canadian Temperance Federation, and Rev. R. J. McIntyre, Vancouver representative of the B.C. Temperance League, interviewed Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer to ask for a Royal Commission on liquor. The temperance men advocated also segregation of sexes in beer parlors, shorter hours of sale of beer, and the setting aside of a portion of liquor revenue to treat and care for alcoholics.

Manitoba To Impose New Income Tax On Corporations

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Garson Coalition government was sustained by a 43 to 12 vote in the Manitoba Legislature Tuesday on an 11-point want of confidence amendment submitted by the C.C.F., but the vote was almost lost sight of in the Premier's 90-minute review of Manitoba's tax agreement with the federal government.

The 10 C.C.F. members and two Independents voted against the government.

In his review Mr. Garson said reconvening of the Dominion-Provincial Conference would serve little purpose and announced:

1. Manitoba will levy a 5 per cent corporation income tax which will be collected by the Dominion and applied in reduction of payments due the province under the agreement;

2. The three prairie provinces had produced in the period 1938-1944 new wealth valued at more than $5,000,000,000, or just more than $836,000,000 yearly;

REVENUE INCREASE

3. Under its tax agreement Manitoba improves its revenues by $5,500,000 yearly and is guaranteed revenue which will not fall below $13,500,000 even in bad times;

4. By accepting the agreement Manitoba has avoided double taxation in the income tax and succession duties fields and double taxation in corporation income taxes is limited to 5 per cent;

The province had been asked to impose the corporation income tax in order, among other things, to equalize to some extent the position of provinces like Manitoba which signed the agreement with provinces which had not signed.

Later he told reporters that if all provinces entered into agreement with the federal government on fields of taxation this levy would be withdrawn.

Bellingham Cagers Beaten In Overtime

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—Baltimore Bullets, touring American Pro Basketball League team, trailed all the way until guard Bill McKeever's shot with 40 seconds to go tied up the game at 47-all and then went on to beat Bellingham of the Pacific Coast Pro Basketball League 59 to 51 in overtime Tuesday night.

Bellingham led at the first quarter, 12 to 8, 31 to 22 at the half and 39 to 34 at the third quarter. Gale Bishop, Bellingham forward, scored 15 for high point man.

The win was Baltimore's fourth in four games in the Pacific northwest.

Manitoba Rink Leads In Canadian Curling

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—The first half of the Canadian curling championship meet behind them, the 10 regional curling winners from across the Dominion today start down the back stretch in the quest for the Macdonald's Brier tankard with slim, Scottish-born Jimmy Welsh and his Manitoba four leading the pack.

With three rounds today and two tomorrow the Brier meet will wind up Thursday afternoon — unless a playoff is necessary—with the 1947 championship in somebody's pocket.

Welsh's Deer Lodge rink of all-Scottish curlers who defeated curling dean Ken Watson in the Manitoba finals, is the only undefeated four in the bonspiel with four wins in as many rounds.

Pravda Says Canada Covers Arms Treaty Of Britain, U.S.

MOSCOW (Reuter)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda claimed today that the "unformalized military agreement" between Canada and the United States was in reality a hidden military agreement between Britain and the United States.

The Times of London was quoted as saying Canada now was the connecting link between the United States and the British Empire.

"This means Britain herself is a participant in the aforementioned agreement," Pravda added.

"Does not this mean that the agreement is really an Anglo-American military agreement? Does not this hide a military union of the great powers?

"The correctness of these suppositions has been reinforced by the recently concluded Anglo-American agreement for co-operation in aviation and the published statements on the standardization of armaments prepared in rather secret circumstances and without reference to geographical factors."

Tie Vote Freed Schacht

NURENBERG (AP)—Hjalmar Schacht's acquittal last October by the International Military Tribunal here was on a tie vote, with the French and British judges voting for acquittal and the U.S. and Russian judges voting for conviction, Robert Kempner, U.S. assistant prosecutor at the trial, said Tuesday. Kempner disclosed the vote in addressing the Nuernberg Service Club.

Walcott Wins Easy Decision Over Ray

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N.H., won an easy 10-round decision over Elmer (Violent) Ray, Hastings, Fla., before a crowd of 8,077 in the Orange Bowl here Tuesday night.

Ray went down in the first, third and fourth but bounded back before the count could start.

Ray, prior to the fight, had been unbeaten for two years and won 50 of his last 51 fights by knockouts. Ray won a decision from Walcott last November in Madison Square Garden, and in an earlier meeting, Walcott knocked out the Hastings negro.

Wheat Shipments Show Decrease Oats, Barley Up

WINNIPEG (CP) — Overseas shipments of Canadian grain during the week ended Feb. 27 were lighter for wheat and rye, the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada reported Tuesday. Substantial improvement, however, was shown in the clearance of both oats and barley.

Total wheat exported during the week came to 1,959,018 bushels, a decrease of 264,285 bushels from the previous week. It brought total wheat clearances for the current crop year to 85,587,420 bushels, in marked contrast with the much heavier movement during the comparable period of the 1945-46 crop year, when 188,972,177 bushels were cleared.

Rye shipments last week were down to 25,000 bushels compared with 101,000 the previous week. Oats rose to 756,083 bushels from 304,842 the week before and barley climbed from 73,000 bushels to 415,000.

Farm wheat marketings were reported approximately 500,000 bushels over the previous week, but through rail movement from the west was still of very small proportions.

Car unloads at the Lakehead terminals picked up somewhat but not sufficiently to offset the much heavier eastern rail traffic from Port Arthur and Fort William, with terminals there reporting a reduction in stocks of slightly more than 750,000 bushels for all grains. The wheat reduction was estimated at more than 500,000.

Lakehead elevators are now carrying 12,900,000 bushels of wheat in storage and 14,900,000 bushels of all other grains for a total of 27,800,000 bushels.

Canadian Pacific eased ⅛ at midday while other Canadian issues registered fractional gains. Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram each moved up ¼, McIntyre ¾ and Hiram Walker ⅜.

London Market

LONDON (Reuter)—Volume of business contracted today in most sections of the stock exchange and the market was dull at the close.

A weak feature was provided by British government securities which lost ¼ to ⅜. Popular home industrials fluctuated narrowly in light business.

The brightest feature of an otherwise quiet day was provided by oils under the lead of Anglo-Iranians which found the market short of supplies.

In the closing business some profit-taking reduced gains. Gold and copper shares steadied near the close.

Bonds: British 2½% Consols (85⅝), British 3½% War Loan (106⅞), British Funding 4s 1960-90 (119⅝).

Early Rally In Golds Levels Off

TORONTO (CP) — An early session rally in gold stocks following yesterday's announcement from Ottawa of special tax relief measures for the industry leveled off in later trading today to close on an over-all price increase below anticipation.

Mining issue gains were plentiful taking in both golds and base metals with norzone featuring the trading on a turnover of almost 300,000 shares for a drop of more than 10 cents. Industrials were firm but western oils were down on sharp losses for a couple of issues.

Senior gold gains in fractions included Bralorne, Dome, Hollinger, Little Long Lac, Malartic, Pickle Crow, Sigma, Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves advanced from five to 25 cents.

Secondary golds traded widely with producing mines showing gains up to 10 cents.

Papers were a strong spot in the industrial lists with about five good fraction gains. Utilities were inactive.

Western oils moved downward on losses for Roxana, Royalite, Home Oil and Foothills.

CHICAGO (AP) — A strong short-covering movement got under way in oats on the Board of Trade today and strength in this grain soon spread to other pits.

Both oats and wheat were sharply higher, but corn tended to lag.

Says Disabled Can Aid Nation's Wealth

If the estimated 200,000 handicapped persons in Canada in need of rehabilitation were to make the same showing as achieved in the U.S., their contribution to the wealth of the nation would be $300,000,000 a year, Alex Clark, publicity director of the Dominion Society of Disabled Adults told a meeting of the local council of Social Agencies at Prince Robert House Tuesday evening.

"In many cases the income tax paid by a rehabilitated worker in a single year would more than offset the entire cost of services extended to him," Mr. Clark said. "Since many of the disabled have never had regular jobs, further saving is represented by the thousands of dollars which need not be expended for provincial and local public assistance. This burden is reduced when the disabled, who with their families are potentially or actually dependent, become self-supporting wage-earners."

A film, "Comeback'," was shown at the meeting. It depicted the success of many persons in overcoming physical or mental handicaps and in building careers.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

COMMONS AND CUSTOMS

ON TUESDAY IT WAS my privilege to accompany a group of Cloverdale schoolchildren on a tour of the Legislative chamber.

Guided by the Sergeant-at-Arms, they were initiated into some of the ancient traditions which lie behind our parliamentary processes.

And as I listened to their comments and questions as to why the bar is kept on the door of the House, what is the significance of the mace, etc., I wondered what their reaction would have been to some of the quaint customs associated with the Mother of Parliaments.

Many of which have come down to us as a heritage—although perhaps in modified form to meet the changing conditions of this new world.

OBEISANCE TO CHAIR

NEW MEMBERS OF OUR B.C. Legislature, for instance, may wonder why they are expected to bow to the Speaker on entering or leaving the House during a debate.

And they may be surprised to learn—if they don't already know it—that they are following out a rule prescribed for English parliamentarians nearly 400 years ago in order to maintain the dignity of the House and the authority of the Speaker.

That centuries-old directive read: "Also when any Knight, citizen or burgess doth enter or come into the lower House, he must make his dutiful and humble obeisance at his entry in. . ."

The Speaker has a role comparable to the "schoolmaster" of the House, it being his duty to see that order is maintained and all the rules of procedure observed.

RED TAPE AND SWORDS

BUT WHILE SOME of our ceremonial and customs may seem odd to the uninitiated, they have been shorn of many of the picturesque features of the British procedure.

I always think it amusingly appropriate, for instance, that a piece of red tape is the first thing issued to a new M.P. in the British House.

Nor is it intended as a reminder of departmental deviations! But is hung from the member's hat-peg—a quaint survival from the days when a sword was as much a part of a man's garb as a tie is today.

And the red tape loops were provided so that members could hang their swords therein.

Speaking of swords recalls another interesting survival of those by-gone days.

SAFETY FIRST RULE

I REMEMBER THE TWO broad lines which ran the full length of the old House of Commons chamber in London—before it was blitzed by Nazi bombs.

Between those lines ran a strip of carpet, its width being exactly two swords' lengths. When the ancient House was built, tempers were hot and, in argument, opponents made their points with a sword.

So, for safety-first reasons, M.P.'s when speaking during those turbulent days had to keep strictly to their own side of the carpet, or out of sword-arm reach of their political opponents.

And even today, a member speaking from the front bench, must not even allow the toe of his shoe to overstep the line, or he is called to order.

HATS AND LIGHTS

ONE NOTICEABLE difference between Canadian parliamentary practices and that of the Mother of Parliaments has to do with hats.

British M.P.'s are required to wear a hat when raising a point of order during a division, a rule whose origin is lost in antiquity.

So rigidly is it adh
